SUMMARY OF HEARINGS ON THE RULE

No hearing was requested and none was held.

FACTS AND CIRCUMSTANCES JUSTIFYING THE RULE

Section 366.04(6)(b), Florida Statutes, grants the Commission jurisdiction to prescribe and enforce safety standards for electric transmission and distribution facilities. The statute also requires the Commission to review and adopt new editions of the National Elecrical Safety Code. Rule 25-6.0345 currently requires all public utilities, rural electric ooperatives, and municipal electric systems to build their transmission and distribution facilities to the standards of the 1993 version of the code. The 1997 edition of the code is now available.
