Dear Ms. Bayo:

Please be advised that on September 29, 1998, the Board of Directors of Dobson Wireline Company unanimously approved the merger of two (2) of its wholly owned subsidiaries, Logix Communications Corporation and American Telco, Inc. Under the plan approved by the board, the two subsidiaries merged and Logix Communications Corporation is the surviving entity. It should be clearly noted that this transaction will not result in a change of control or ownership of either of the entities because Dobson Wireline Company, prior to this transaction, had already owned 100% of all of the outstanding classes of stocks in both companies.

Currently, both Logix Communications Corporation and American Telco, Inc. are authorized to provide resold toll services in your state. The combined company will operate under the logo and brand name of Logix Communications Corporation and will utilize the Logix price list or tariffs, where applicable. Additionally, all of our customers have received written notice advising them of the merger and subsequent changes. Further, no customer's rates will be increased as a result of the merger, and in most cases, the customer's rates will decrease.

Please modify your records to recognize the merger of Logix Communications Corporation and American Telco, Inc. and the subsequent transferring of all certificates and tariffs of American Telco, Inc. to Logix Communications Corporation. All Commission inquiries regarding the merger and/or regulatory issues should be addressed as follows:
