3. AT&T-C and AT&T Florida (collectively “AT&T”), are each authorized to provide local and long distance services to both residential and business customers in Florida. AT&T-C and AT&T Florida are in the process of integrating and streamlining certain business operations to make the operations of each company more efficient. In conjunction with these efforts, AT&T-C will cease providing residential local exchange service to its current customers in the former BellSouth territory throughout the former BellSouth region, including Florida. As described in greater detail below and to avoid any customer from losing local service, AT&T-C will migrate its existing residential local customers’ service to local service provided by AT&T Florida in AT&T Florida’s service territory for those customers that do not voluntarily select a new service provider or choose an AT&T Florida local service plan. Through this service migration, AT&T seeks to bring to its customers the best of AT&T’s integrated services and to further the integration efforts of the new AT&T by simplifying its service portfolio and streamlining its operations to help improve customer service. After the migration, AT&T-C will continue to provide the same long distance service that it currently provides to the affected customers.²

4. The rule for which AT&T requires a waiver is Rule 25-4.118, Florida Administrative Code, “Local, Local Toll or Toll Provider Selection.” Rule 25-4.118(1) provides, inter alia, that the “[local, local toll or toll] provider of a customer shall not be changed without the customer’s authorization.” In addition, this rule provides the requirements that a carrier must comply with to change the local, local toll or toll service provider of a customer. In the instant case, AT&T desires a waiver of the carrier selection requirements of Rule 25-4.118 to the extent that certain customers are migrated from ATT-C to AT&T Florida for local service without such customers’ affirmative selection. This waiver is necessary in order to maintain continuity of local service for these customers.

5. While AT&T clearly desires that the affected customers will choose to continue receiving service from AT&T, AT&T recognizes that each of these customers has a right to choose his or her own service provider. AT&T will respect that right throughout the planned transition by giving customers ample notice and time to select another provider. Notwithstanding, AT&T also anticipates that some customers will not affirmatively choose service either from AT&T Florida or another local service provider. In order for these customers to retain local service, AT&T will migrate these customers to comparable AT&T Florida local services. It is this last group of customers that

² For those AT&T-C customers that currently have a bundle of local and long distance, they will be placed on the equivalent AT&T-C stand-alone long distance plan. To ensure that there is not a rate differential between the a customer’s current AT&T-C local and long distance bundled plan and the customer’s new AT&T Florida local plan and AT&T-C stand-alone long distance plan, the customer will be made whole through a credit. Providing this incidental credit does not create a discrimination issue because all similarly situated customers (the AT&T-C customers experiencing a price increase in transitioning to an AT&T-C stand-alone long distance service) will be treated the same. Namely, all affected customers will receive a credit such that they will see no price increase as a result of the migration. Avoiding price increases is a factor that the Commission has previously looked at in determining whether to grant identical waiver requests filed by other carriers following a merger or acquisition. See Order No. PSC-07-0388-PAA-TP (granting waiver request and finding that “the customers should not experience any interruption of service, rate increase, or switching fees.”). To the extent that the Commission believes that providing this incremental credit creates a discrimination issue, AT&T will eliminate the credit option.

necessitates the instant request for waiver of the carrier selection requirements in Rule 25-4-118, Florida Administrative Code.

6. In conjunction with the exit of AT&T-C from the residential local service market, AT&T-C will send letters to affected customers beginning September 24, 2007 notifying these customers of the discontinuance of service. A copy of AT&T-C's Customer Notice Letter is attached as Exhibit A.

7. Recognizing customers' right to choose a local service provider, AT&T-C will provide the following options, each of which is described in the Customer Notice Letter:

- a. Customers can call AT&T Florida to select a new AT&T Florida local service plan. There will be no cost associated with a customer's changing his or her local service provider to AT&T Florida.
- b. Customers can select another telephone service provider. Customers will specifically be notified that they need to make this selection within 45 days of the date of the Customer Notice Letter to avoid being automatically migrated to AT&T Florida.
- c. Customers who do not choose a new AT&T Florida local rate plan or a new provider will be automatically migrated to AT&T Florida during a transition period from November 12, 2007 to December 28, 2007. These customers will be given an AT&T Florida local service plan that is most comparable to the customer's current telephone service plan. There will be no cost to the customer for this migration to AT&T Florida.

8. AT&T Florida expects many AT&T-C customers wishing to migrate their local service to AT&T Florida will call AT&T Florida to effectuate the service provider change as provided in AT&T's customer notice letter. For customers that call to make the service provider change to AT&T Florida, AT&T Florida will follow the carrier selection process in Rule 25-4.118.

9. Customers automatically migrated to an AT&T Florida local service plan will be placed on a plan that is comparable with their current AT&T-C local service. Where an automatically migrated customer's AT&T Florida local service plan has a higher rate than their AT&T-C plan, the customer will receive a credit sufficient to offset any increase resulting from a higher rate under the AT&T Florida service plan.³ Consequently, all customers that are automatically migrated to AT&T Florida will pay the same or less than they currently pay with AT&T-C.

10. This automatic migration is necessary in order to ensure that no customer is left without service when AT&T-C ceases providing local residential exchange service. Further, AT&T believes a waiver/variance of Rule 25-4.118 is necessary because the group of customers failing to respond to AT&T-C's direction to affirmatively choose a replacement plan or carrier could potentially be large. Many such customers may see themselves as "choosing" automatic migration by electing not to respond. For these customers, it is likely that they would prefer not to be bothered by an uninvited call seeking to obtain third-party verification. AT&T would also note that, even after the automatic migration is completed, the customer, as always, will continue to have the right to change service providers if he or she later chooses to do so.

11. The Commission has routinely granted waiver requests similar to the instant petition. See e.g., Orders Nos. PSC-07-0388-PAA-TP; 07-0361-PAA-TP; 07-0209-PAA-TP; 07-0133-PAA-TP; 06-0734-PAA-TP.

12. Based on AT&T-C's decision to cease providing residential local service and the need to insure that customers not affirmatively selecting a new local service provider continue to be provided with local service, a waiver of the carrier selection requirements in Rule 25-4.118 is appropriate and in the public interest.

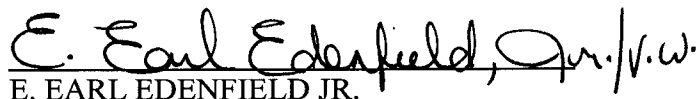

BASED ON THE FOREGOING, AT&T-C and AT&T Florida respectfully request that a waiver of the carrier selection requirements be granted for the migration of residential local service customers from AT&T-C to AF&T Florida, as described herein.

Respectfully submitted this 8th day of June, 2007.

Important changes to your AT&T Services

Dear [Customer Name],

We want to update you on some important and positive changes to your AT&T services which may require you to take some action. As you may know, in December 2006, AT&T and BellSouth joined together to form the new AT&T. BellSouth is now doing business as AT&T Florida. In an effort to provide you with even better and more exciting products, services, and offers, we are integrating the best of our combined services.

What's Changing?

As a result of this integration, your residential local service, which is currently provided by AT&T Communications of the Southern States, LLC, will now be provided by AT&T Florida—one of the AT&T family of companies.

- Unless you choose a different local service provider, your residential AT&T Local Service will be automatically transferred to AT&T Florida during a transition period from November 12 through December 28, 2007. Your current service plan will be switched to an AT&T Florida service plan that is comparable to your current telephone service plan (as shown on the enclosed list). Your new AT&T Florida service plan may include features or services not included in your current plan. Regardless, the monthly recurring charges for your new plan will be equal to or less than what you pay now. Where your monthly telephone service charges would be higher, you will receive a special credit so that you do not see an increase over what you pay now for your total combination or bundle of voice services. If a local service credit is provided, you will continue to receive the local credit until you transfer or change your local service plan. Once you receive your bill, if you have any questions about what's included in your service plan, just contact us at the number provided on the bill. There are no costs associated with this transfer to AT&T Florida. We also want to assure you that there will be no interruption in your service.
- You can also choose a different local service plan. If you would like to select a different plan, simply call us at 1-866-412-4977 within 45 days of the date of this letter, and our Customer Care representatives will be happy to review your current services and help you choose a new plan for your needs. For your reference, we have enclosed a summary of current plans and a sample of options available with the new AT&T, along with applicable rates and terms. We also invite you to visit our website at att.com to view available products and services in your area.

You are a valued customer and we sincerely hope you will remain with the AT&T family, but if you do not wish to have your local service changed to AT&T Florida, you may choose another local telephone service provider. If you wish to select another provider, you should contact that carrier for information on their services and charges, including any charges associated with moving to their service. A listing of available local service providers may be found in your AT&T White Pages Directory. If you want to select another service provider, you should make that selection within 45 days of the date of this letter to avoid automatic transfer of your account to AT&T Florida.

Note: If you select a new local service provider, you should contact your current long distance provider to ensure there is no change to your long distance calling plan, unless you requested it. Not doing so may result in a change in the rates applied to your long distance calls.

AT&T Long Distance Customers

As an AT&T Florida local customer who retains AT&T Long Distance service, you will automatically be enrolled in the AT&T Unlimited Plus Plan, which has a $32.99 monthly recurring charge and provides unlimited domestic long distance calling, 24 hours per day 7 days a week. Importantly, you also will receive a $7.00 monthly credit on your bill once your service has been established with AT&T Florida. You will continue to receive the $7.00 monthly credit as long as you are enrolled in the AT&T Unlimited Plus calling plan and have AT&T Florida as your local provider.

Changes to your Voice Mail

Your previous Voice Mail service will be discontinued and you will be provided a new Voice Mail service at no additional cost when you are automatically transferred to AT&T Florida. If you wish, you may call AT&T Florida prior to the transition period to discuss other voice mail products available to you. Please note that with the new service, you will have to reset your password and greetings. You will receive detailed instructions on how to use your new mailbox in a separate mailing. You can also find instructions on setting up and using your new mailbox at att.com/info or you can access your mailbox by dialing *98 from your home phone for further information. Also, any saved messages currently stored on your current mail platform cannot be transferred to the new platform. We recommend that you make audio recordings of any important messages you might have and wish to keep for future reference. You can also access your saved messages via <http://vm.att.com> and save them to your computer hard drive. Please take appropriate action before the transition period.
