Docket No. 080412-EG – Commission review of numeric conservation goals (Orlando Utilities Commission).

Docket No. 080413-EG – Commission review of numeric conservation goals (JEA). (Deferred from the November 10, 2009 Commission Conference, Supplemental Recommendation filed.)

Critical Date(s): Pursuant to Section 366.82(6), F.S., the Commission must review conservation goals at least every five years. New conservation goals must be set by January 1, 2010.

Commissioners Assigned: All Commissioners

Prehearing Officer: Carter

Staff: RAD: Brown, Clemence, Crawford, Ellis, Garl, Gilbert, Graves, Harlow, Lewis, Marr, Matthews, Futrell

ECR: Dowds, Higgins

GCL: Fleming, Saylor

(Participation is Limited to Commissioners and Staff.)

(Supplemental Recommendation to Staff's October 15, 2009, Recommendation filed November 20, 2009)

Issue 1: Did the Company provide an adequate assessment of the full technical potential of all available demand-side and supply-side conservation and efficiency measures, including demand-side renewable energy systems, pursuant to Section 366.82(3), F.S.?

Recommendation: Yes. The seven FEECA utilities and NRDC/SACE (the Collaborative) retained the consulting firm ITRON to perform a technical potential study. The ITRON study identified 58,616 GWhs of annual energy, 14,375 MWs of summer system peak demand, and 8,883 MWs of winter system peak demand as the statewide technical potential of demand-side conservation and energy efficiency measures for Florida. A supply-side technical potential was not calculated.

Docket No. 080413-EG – Commission review of numeric conservation goals (JEA). (Deferred from the November 10, 2009 Commission Conference, Supplemental Recommendation filed.)

Issue 2: Did the Company provide an adequate assessment of the achievable potential of all available demand-side and supply-side conservation and efficiency measures, including demand-side renewable energy systems?

Recommendation: Yes. Each FEECA utility utilized the Technical Potential Study performed by ITRON to develop a statewide achievable potential for energy efficiency and conservation. In coordination with ITRON, the FEECA utilities disclosed the necessary information and analysis required by statute.

Issue 3: Do the Company's proposed goals adequately reflect the costs and benefits to customers participating in the measure, pursuant to Section 366.82(3)(a), F.S.?

Recommendation: Yes. The utilities properly used the Participants Test in the screening of measures in order to determine the costs and benefits to customers that participate in DSM programs.

Issue 4: Do the Company's proposed goals adequately reflect the costs and benefits to the general body of ratepayers as a whole, including utility incentives and participant pursuant to Section 366.82(3)(b), F.S.?

Recommendation: Yes. Staff believes that the Participants Test, RIM Test, and TRC Test should all be used to set goals.

Issue 5: Do the Company's proposed goals adequately reflect the costs imposed by state and federal regulations on the emission of greenhouse gases, pursuant to Section 366.82(3)(d), F.S.?

Recommendation: No. The FEECA utilities, in analyzing DSM measures for this proceeding, went beyond requirements of the statute by including potential CO₂ emission costs. The utilities' projections of potential CO₂ costs varied by over 100 percent, and, therefore, should not be relied upon in this goal setting process.

Issue 6: Should the Commission establish incentives to promote both customer-owned and utility-owned energy efficiency and demand-side renewable energy systems?

Recommendation: No. Increasing rates in order to provide incentives to utilities is more appropriately addressed in a future limited scope proceeding as provided for in Section 366.82(9), F.S. Customers are already eligible to receive incentives through existing DSM programs.

Issue 7: In setting goals, what consideration should the Commission give to the impact on rates?

Recommendation: The Commission should give substantial consideration to the impact on rates when setting conservation goals. The legislative intent for public utility regulation is protection of the public welfare. Ensuring reasonable rates, among other issues, is an integral part of that protection.

Issue 8: What cost-effectiveness test or tests should the Commission use to set goals, pursuant to Section 366.82, F.S.?

Recommendation: As discussed in Issue 4, staff believes that the Participants Test, RIM Test, and TRC Test should all be used to set goals.

Issue 9: What residential summer and winter megawatt (MW) and annual Gigawatt-hour (GWh) goals should be established for the period 2010-2019?

Recommendation: The Commission should reject the residential goals proposed by the utilities, NRDC/SACE, FSC, and GDS for the various reasons discussed below. Staff recommends that residential goals be approved based on the FEECA utilities continuing to offer their existing programs consistent with their 2009 Ten-Year Site Plans and existing programs. In addition, the utilities should be required to expand their educational programs to include measures that failed the two-year payback screening and measures offering significant savings potential that passed the TRC Test, but failed the RIM Test.

Issue 10: What commercial/industrial summer and winter megawatt (MW) and annual Gigawatt hour (GWh) goals should be established for the period 2010-2019?

Recommendation: The Commission should reject the commercial/industrial goals proposed by the utilities, NRDC/SACE, FSC, and GDS for the various reasons discussed below. Staff recommends that commercial/industrial goals be approved based on the FEECA utilities continuing to offer their existing programs consistent with previous filings in the Ten-Year Site Plan and power plant need determinations. In addition, the utilities should be required to expand their educational programs to include measures that failed the two-year payback screening and measures offering significant saving potential that passed the TRC Test, but failed the RIM Test.

Docket No. 080413-EG – Commission review of numeric conservation goals (JEA). (Deferred from the November 10, 2009 Commission Conference, Supplemental Recommendation filed.)

Issue 11: In addition to the MW and GWh goals established in Issues 9 and 10, should the Commission establish separate goals for demand-side renewable energy systems?

Recommendation: The Commission can meet the requirements of Section 366.82(2), F.S., while protecting ratepayers by requiring the IOUs to offer demand-side renewable programs that do not otherwise pass any of the cost-effectiveness tests, subject to an expenditure cap. Utilities should be required to file pilot programs focusing on encouraging solar water heating and solar PV technologies in the DSM program approval proceeding. Expenditures should be capped at 5 percent of the average annual recovery through the Energy Conservation Cost Recovery clause for the previous five years. Annual expenditures of 5 percent would result in total support for programs designed to encourage solar of approximately $12.2 million per year for the IOUs.

Issue 12: In addition to the MW and GWh goals established in Issues 9 and 10, should the Commission establish additional goals for efficiency improvements in generation, transmission, and distribution?

Recommendation: No. Since the IOUs did not provide a technical potential of supply-side efficiency measures, goals for generation, transmission, and distribution cannot be established at this time. However, efficiency improvements for generation, transmission, and distribution are continually reviewed through the utilities' planning processes in an attempt to reduce the cost of providing electrical service to their customers.

Issue 13: In addition to the MW and GWh goals established in Issues 9 and 10, should the Commission establish separate goals for residential and commercial/industrial customer participation in utility energy audit programs for the period 2010-2019?

Recommendation: No. Separate goals for customer participation in energy audit programs are unnecessary and could be duplicative.

Issue 14: What action, if any, should the Commission take in this proceeding to encourage the efficient use of cogeneration?

Recommendation: No additional action is needed. The Commission has appropriately implemented legislative policy to encourage the development and compensation requirements of cogeneration.

Issue 15: Since the Commission has no rate-setting authority over OUC and JEA, can the Commission establish goals that puts upward pressure on their rates?

Recommendation: Staff recommends that the Commission has authority to adopt conservation goals for all electric utilities under the jurisdiction of FEECA. OUC and JEA come within the meaning of utility as defined by FEECA. Developing, establishing, and adopting conservation goals is a regulatory activity exclusively granted to the Commission by FEECA and is not ratemaking within the meaning of Chapter 366, F.S. Therefore, staff recommends that the Commission has the authority to develop, establish, and adopt conservation goals for OUC and JEA as required by Section 366.82, F.S.

Issue 16: Should this docket be closed?

Recommendation: Yes. These dockets should be closed after the time for filing an appeal has run. Within 90 days of the issuance of the final order, each utility shall file, as needed, a demand side management plan designed to meet the utility's approved goals.

Yes, please enter this letter only in Docket No. 080407. I think the reason the parties are identifying all dockets on the cover letter is because the dockets have been consolidated for hearing. I will have to talk to the parties to figure out the best way to address this.

Thanks for your help!

Subject: Errata Sheet for Direct Testimony of John R. Haney

Good morning Katherine,

We have received an errata sheet for the direct testimony of John R. Haney. It lists all dockets from 080407 through 080413. The cover letter only references Docket 080407. Since we just had a conversation about this type of matter, on Thursday I believe it was, do you want this document entered in Docket 080407 only, or in all of the listed dockets.

Thank you for your help!

Subject: FW: Place in docket files ;

Thank you for this information.

Since an email and email attachment does not meet our filing requirements, I will be happy to place these power point pages in the correspondence files.

If, however, you would like this information included in docket files 080407-EG through 080413-EG, CLK will need the power point pages attached to a memorandum along with your filing instructions. The memorandum (and its power point attachments) will then be Document Numbered and processed an official filing.

Workshop on Commission Review of Numeric Conservation Goals

November 3, 2008

Review of Numeric Conservation Goals Workshop

- Collaborative formed for Demand Side Management Technical Potential Study
 - FEECA Utilities
 - Progress Energy Florida
 - Tampa Electric
 - Gulf Power
 - Orlando Utilities Commission
 - Florida Public Utilities
 - JEA
 - Florida Power & Light
 - Other Stakeholders
 - Southern Alliance for Clean Energy
 - National Resource Defense Council
 - FPSC Staff
 - Itron/KEMA selected by the Collaborative to perform Study

There are multiple types of DSM potential

Development of DSM Goals will require a determination of each type of DSM potential

1. Technical Potential is the upper limit of energy efficiency in Florida

- Technical potential
 - Upper bound of energy efficiency potential in a technical feasibility sense, regardless of cost or acceptability to customers
 - Feasibility limits measure installation to situations where installation is physically practical (e.g., available space, noise considerations, and lighting level requirements are considered, among other things)
 - Total amount of energy savings that would be possible if all technically applicable and feasible opportunities to improve energy efficiency were taken, including retrofit measures, replace-on-burnout measures, and new construction measures
- Technical potential is not limited by product availability or customer preferences
- A rigorous technical potential study sets a solid foundation for the subsequent potential studies

Data inputs required for Technical Potential

- Baseline data that support development of calibrated, bottom-up, end-use technology baselines
 - Housing/customer counts
 - Commercial floorstock
 - End-use saturations
 - End-use load shapes
 - Actual utility sales and peak demand (top-down control totals)
- Measure data that capture the average cost-savings relationships in a given market segment
 - Measure costs
 - Measure savings
 - Measure feasibility
 - Current measure saturation

Scope of Technical Potential Study

- 276 unique measures being evaluated (includes measures from the Synergic Resources Company Study)
 - 70 residential
 - 92 commercial
 - 114 industrial
- 58 “new” measures (relative to previous Itron/KEMA studies in other states)
 - 25 residential
 - 33 commercial
- Final Technical Potential report to be completed in early December

Commercial On-Site Surveys

- There is a need for baseline equipment saturation data by commercial building type
 - This data is typically the most uncertain inputs in potential studies
- The Florida Collaborative is conducting a 600-point on-site survey of commercial facilities throughout the State
 - Survey development, testing, and implementation being administered by KEMA (subcontractor to Itron for this study)
 - Primary data being collected:
 - Building characteristics
 - Baseline end-use equipment saturations
 - Measure saturations
 - Current status: >500 on-site surveys completed
 - Final results will be completed by February 2009

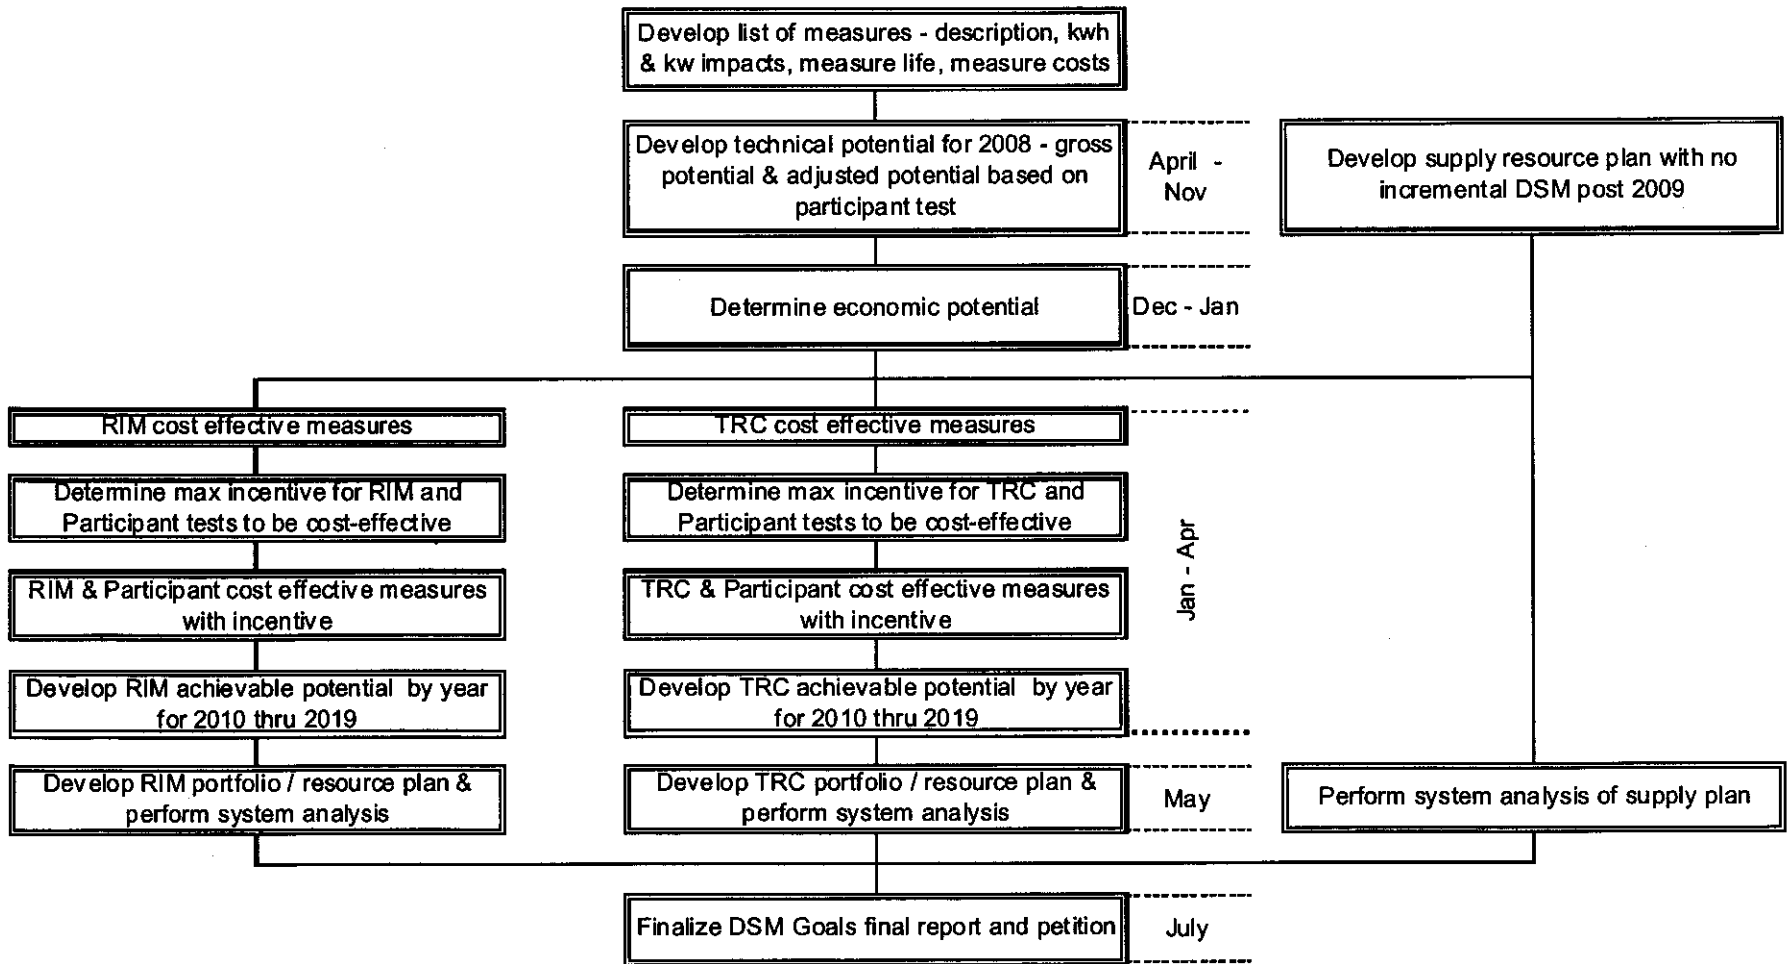

2. Technical, Economic & Achievable Potential for Supply-Side Generation and T&D

- For the 2009 goal setting process, focus should remain on the demand-side
- While opportunities to increase the efficiency of energy supply may exist, a methodical process to determine the potential for cost-effective goals does not exist in a robust enough form to be included in 2010-2019 goals proposal
- Provisions of HB 7135 do provide opportunity for use of supply-side measures in meeting 20% of growth goal for an ROE adder
 - That provision should be preserved as an incentive to consider supply-side projects, but not a requirement

2. Technical, Economic & Achievable Potential for Supply-Side Generation and T&D

- Consideration for energy efficiency already built-in to evaluation processes for generation, transmission, and distribution
 - Generation - heat rate, availability, and capacity improvements are all measures of energy efficiency
 - T&D - lowest cost alternatives are pursued for meeting system operating needs. T&D planning driven more from reliability and voltage stability
 - 2007 DOE rule increased efficiency requirements of distribution transformers - “free rider”
- For these reasons, consideration of “supply-side” goals should be addressed separately from demand-side goals.

3. Determination of Economic and Achievable Potential

4. Cost effectiveness methodology for participating customers

HB 7135 Cost Effectiveness Test Language:

Sec 366.82(3)(a) The costs and benefits to customers participating in measure.

Benefits:

- Incremental energy bill savings are modeled using DOE2 simulation and calibrated with test sites energy reductions
 - Compare to Itron's savings estimates
 - Incentives paid to participants
 - Tax benefits

Costs:

- Program coordinators survey incremental measure cost (participant out of pocket cost) from vendors around service area
 - Compare to Itron report
 - Incremental cost between baseline efficiency and higher efficiency options

The existing Participant test addresses Sec 366.82(3)(a)

5. Cost effectiveness methodology for the general body of customers

- HB 7135 Cost Effective Test Language:
 - Sec 366.82 (3) (b) The costs and benefits to the general body of ratepayers as a whole, including utility incentives and participant contributions.
- Florida's current tests provide all needed information to evaluate economic/financial impacts from the participant, non-participant and total customer perspectives
- No other test is need to address the costs and benefits addressed by Sec 366.82(3)(b).
- In addition, no other single test can more transparently, equitably, and comprehensively (i.e., across different types of programs) balance customer interests and control impacts to the customers electric rate and bill
- This is the right information to balance customer interests and make sound screening decisions
 - By varying threshold levels, the current tests can prevent cross-subsidies between customers and limit rate impacts to all customers

6. Impact of emissions of greenhouse gases

- Principal greenhouse gas considered in HB 7135 is carbon dioxide
- To date, no market has been established for carbon dioxide
- Currently, an integral component of a utility's Need Determination before this Commission is to establish costs associated with carbon dioxide emissions
- To incorporate a carbon dioxide emissions cost into energy efficiency cost-effectiveness evaluations, utilities could use the Need Determination methodology for determining carbon dioxide emissions cost
- The Commission's current cost-effectiveness methodology can readily handle the carbon dioxide cost in the appropriate cost-effectiveness tests

7. Incentives for Energy Efficiency & Renewable Energy Systems

- Incentives are a key component for both the customer and the utility with respect to both energy efficiency and demand-side renewable energy systems.
- From the customer perspective
 - Customer needs the incentive to consider and implement energy efficiency and renewable resources beyond the code required or typical measure that would otherwise be installed
 - Incentive should be large enough to encourage the customer to make the correct decision while maintaining prudent cost-effectiveness for the utility
 - Incentive should be set at a level that minimizes free riders

7. Incentives for Energy Efficiency & Renewable Energy Systems

- From the utility perspective
 - General concept of utility incentives involves the utility receiving incentives that include fixed cost recovery and shareholder incentives as energy efficiency and renewable resources are deployed in its service area
 - Incentive mechanisms can take the form of shared savings of the net benefit of deferred generation and T&D resulting from energy efficiency deployment or an ROE adder on rate base
 - HB 7135 is flexible and contemplates both shared savings and premium ROE incentive mechanisms

FEECA Energy Efficiency Potential Workshop

SACE / NRDC Comments

October 2008

FEECA Goal: Potential Study

1. Utility plans, procedures, and methodologies being employed, or to be employed, to determine the full technical, economic, and achievable potential for supply-side generation, transmission, and distribution efficiency improvements.
- We generally agree that the study has proceeded appropriately. The relationship among utilities, consultants and our organizations has been professional and productive.

Issues with Potential Study

- Some shortcomings with measure list
 - Primarily due to compressed study schedule
 - SACE/NRDC will comment specifically in response to utility filings
- Cost estimates do not consider economy of scale
 - Cost data derived from Florida experience which have been jdw2
relatively small programs
 - Studies show cost of conservation declines with higher levels of achievement

PSC Rule Shortcomings Affecting Potential Study

- Rule 25-17.008 FAC and CE Manual do not address the new authority to “allow efficiency investments across generation, transmission, and distribution.” §366.82 (2)
- CE Manual does not address data collection and analysis requirements respecting “demand side renewable energy systems.” §366.81
- Recommendation: Revise CE Manual, or provide informal guidance, as to the data and analysis requirements for these two resource potentials.

FEECA Goals: Cost vs Benefit

2. Utility plans, procedures, and methodologies being employed, or to be employed, to screen the measures identified in the KEMA/ITRON Technical Potential Study to determine the economic and achievable potential of each measure.
 - We are not satisfied that the Commission had provided adequate direction on this point.
 - Utilities do not appear to be using consistent approaches, and we do not have enough information about their approaches to evaluate them.

Measuring Benefits of Efficiency

- The CE Manual defines benefits to be based on an “avoided generating unit.”

The term "avoided generating unit" as used in this manual refers to a utility's proposed generating unit that is avoided in whole or in part by the demand-side management program. Avoided capacity charges shall be used in lieu of avoided generating unit costs, where appropriate, to determine cost effectiveness. Use of avoided capacity charges in lieu of avoided generating unit costs may be particularly appropriate by nongenerating utilities, wholesale power purchasers, or members of a power pool arrangement. [§1, the Manual, p.3]

- EE is widely recognized as less expensive than the cost of avoided generating units
- Continued use of the “avoided capacity charges” approach results in underestimating benefits
- Are utilities using method to value efficiency based on avoiding a generating unit “in part”?

$EE << $Generation

Current Method Ignores Value of Fuel Price “Insurance”

- The CE Manual provides for an evaluation of a single scenario of fuel costs [Form CE 1.1 Items IV.(16) & (17)]
- CE Manual fails to measure value of “insuring” (hedging) against fuel price increases above baseline scenario
- The 5th Northwest Plan demonstrates impact of measuring risk avoidance benefits

EE Reduces Cost and Risk

Valuing Benefits Properly

- Recommendation: Convene workshop to develop standard for valuing benefits
 - Invite Northwest Power and Conservation Council
- Recommendation: Require utilities to submit methods for valuing benefits for Commission approval
 - Need to complete by early February
- Recommendation: Revise CE Manual to explicitly allow for valuation of “insuring” against fuel price increases

FEECA Cost-Effective Test

- Questions 3-6 relate to statutory criteria for developing FEECA goals.

a) The costs and benefits to customers participating in the measure. §366.82 (3)(a)

- We interpret this as the Participant Cost Test as historically used.

FEECA Cost-Effective Test

- b) The costs and benefits to the general body of ratepayers as a whole, including utility incentives and participant contributions. §366.82 (3)(b)
- We interpret this as the Total Resource Cost Test as conventionally applied, with one modification:
 - We believe “utility incentives” refers to any performance-based incentive authorized by the Commission. Such incentives should be considered a “cost” of energy efficiency.

FEECA Cost-Effective Test

- c) The need for incentives to promote both customer-owned and utility-owned energy efficiency and demand-side renewable energy systems. 366.82 (3)(c)
- Customer-owned systems: We interpret this to refer to the utility's method for determining the appropriate level of incentive payment required to make the offer attractive to the customer.
 - Utility-owned systems: We interpret this to refer to the Commission's determination to offer a performance-based incentive.

FEECA Cost-Effective Test

- d) The costs imposed by state and federal regulations on the emission of greenhouse gases. §366.82 (3)(d)
- We interpret this as either
 - a modification of the benefits valued in the Participant and Total Resource Cost Tests to include additional costs; or
 - a modification of our proposed “insurance” or hedging component to the benefits valuation.

FEECA: No RIM Test

- The statute does not establish the RIM test as a basis for determining FEECA goals. §366.82 (3)
- Prior Commission policy has led Florida to favor peak-reduction over energy savings
- This has resulted in emphasizing resources that are sensitive to fuel price increases
- Recommendation:* Limit use of Rate Impact Measure test (and Utility Cost Test) to program design; exclude from FEECA goal process
