Re: Docket No. 090001-EI

Dear Ms. Cole:

On April 3, 2006, FPL filed a Request for Confidential Classification (the "April 2006 Request") in Docket No. 060001-EI, a predecessor to the above-referenced docket, concerning certain materials provided to the Commission Staff in connection with the prepared testimony of Gerald Yupp. The documents contained information relating to fuel hedging activities. Those materials are designated by the Commission as Document No. 02955-06 (the "Confidential Materials"), and the April 2006 Request is Document No. 02954-06. In FPSC Order No. PSC-06-0564-CFO-EI, the Commission granted the April 2006 Request. On December 14, 2007, FPL filed a First Request for Extension of Confidential Classification (the "December 2007 Request") in Docket No. 070001-EI. That request is designated by the Commission as Document No. 10964-07. The Commission has not yet ruled on the December 2007 Request. Pursuant to Rule 25-22.006(3)(d), F.A.C., the Confidential Materials remain protected as confidential pending ruling.

I am writing in response to Staff's request to confirm that FPL continues to seek an extension of confidential classification for the Confidential Materials, for the reasons set forth in the December 2007 Request. As stated in the affidavit accompanying the December 2007 Request, the Confidential Materials contain or comprise detailed Fuel Hedging Information, including hedging results and trade secrets. FPL continues to treat this information as confidential, and the concerns about disclosure that make this information confidential remain valid today. Accordingly, FPL asks that the Commission grant the December 2007 Request for the reasons set forth therein.

Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions.

Sincerely,

/s/John T. Butler
