Ms. Argenziano I was sorry to read you leaving the PSC commission. My only hope is you will continue in politics. Florida needs people like you. Mr. Skop, I am very upset, but not surprised concerning the story in today's Palm Beach Post concerning FPL asking courts to eliminate you from discussions concerning them. You along with Ms. Argenziano, Mr. Klement and Stevens were a credit to the PSC and the residents of Florida. The cartoon below should read FPL laid off 25 Congressmen. Thought you would enjoy the ?cartoon.

To All Commissioners,

With regards to the actions of FPL towards Nathan Skop, you all have need to be concerned and must take action to stop FPL towards achieving their end - which is having Commissioner Skop removed from all future FPL hearings.

Such an action would set a precedent that would provide FPL unmitigated control over all of your actions and to the detriment of the ratepayers that you are there to serve.

FPL has proven that it has taken questionable actions before and if this action is successful against Commissioner Skop, then all of you are endangered as well as your successors.

Please take whatever measures you can to ensure that FPL does not succeed in it's quest.

The repercussions are just too dangerous.

Very truly yours,

Dear Commissioner Skop,

It seems I am continually upset with the news in the Palm Beach Post concerning you and FPL, and the latest story on 9/14/2010, which I have enclosed for you to read. I don't have the words to express my gratitude to you for all you have done, and tried to do for the consumers who have no choice but to use FPL.

There was a list of senators and representatives who make up the nominating committee, and I have written them all and expressed my dissatisfaction with them and of course have not heard back from any of them. I have no doubt that FPL have these people in their pockets, and care more about "taking care" of them than the public. What upsets me more is the consumer who won't or can't get involved beyond talking about how high their electric bill is while standing around the water cooler. These fools, in my opinion, will get what they deserve when you and Ms. Argenziano complete your term in January. As for the politicians hopefully they will get what they deserve come November. You take care of yourself, sir. And again "Thank you"

FPL turns up heat on PSC member

By SUSAN SALISBURY

Palm Beach Post Staff Writer

Updated: 7:59 p.m. Monday, Sept. 13, 2010

Posted: 7:49 p.m. Monday, Sept. 13, 2010

In its battle to bar outgoing Florida Public Service Commissioner Nathan Skop from dealing with any of its issues, Florida Power & Light Co. pulled out all the stops Monday, seeking to prevent Skop from participating in a PSC hearing today.

The Juno Beach-based company filed additional motions with the Tallahassee-based 1st District Court of Appeal and the PSC on Monday in its latest attempt to keep him out of its business.

Late Monday the PSC deferred FPL's portion of today's hearing until Sept. 28.

The PSC, including Skop, is still expected to discuss other utility companies' energy-saving programs.

"Our goal is to stop him from participating in FPL matters," Barry Richard, a Tallahassee attorney representing FPL, said Monday.

FPL officials said in court filings that in the past year Skop has become increasingly hostile toward the company, and that his antagonistic behavior has been reserved for FPL. The company contends Skop is no longer fair and impartial.

Skop, 43, whose term ends Jan. 1, did not respond to a request for comment Monday.

In January, Skop and four other commissioners unanimously voted to reject FPL's proposed $1.2 billion rate increase. The company was granted a $75.5 million increase. Skop has stated that FPL "owns state government," and accused it of "spin" and "selective disclosure," and accused FPL's counsel of "misrepresentations," according to court filings.

Richard filed an emergency motion for a stay Monday, asking the 1st District Court of Appeal to stop Skop from hearing any FPL matters. On Sept. 2, FPL filed a motion with the PSC asking Skop to disqualify himself from involvement in any FPL issues.

At a nuclear cost hearing a week ago, Skop said the motion was moot because it was not issued far enough in advance of the hearing and did not cite the appropriate statute.

Skop's refusal to disqualify himself set off a series of court filings by FPL attorneys, including one that asks the court to force Skop to rule on the disqualification motion.

Friday, the appellate court gave Skop until Thursday to respond as to why FPL's petitions should not be granted.

The company's recent settlement of its rate case, and 10 other FPL issues are pending before the PSC this year.

Ann,

Mr. Larry Kraatz of Vero Beach (721 Timber Ridge Trail) called the Office of Commissioner Skop at 9:20 AM today to express his displeasure regarding FPL filings designed to remove Commissioner Skop from FPL-related dockets. He stated he was very concerned about FPL's attempts to silence Commissioner Skop, their "mafiosa tactics", their attempts to increase rates. He stated Commissioner Skop's input should be valued despite having voted against FPL. Mr. Kraatz stated he supports the appointment to the utility board of any advocate who supports people's rights.

Thank you for taken on F.P.L. and representing the hard working families in Florida. In the past it always been F.P.L. who has been dictating to the consumers and it's nice to finally see a commissioner who is standing up for the people of Florida! The amount of electricity that needs to be generated today is getting to be less and less. With all the "Green" lighting, Appliances, Motors, A.C. units, etc.... our electric bill should be decreasing each year when in fact it is constantly on the rise. I've never seen so many excuses for increases. Make them open their books for the consumer to see. It would be in the best interest of the consumers. I look out my back window and see several old Electric poles that are rotted, and they claim that they have strengthened the electrical grid. Please keep on them and don't back down!

Thank You for your Fine Job as Commissioner.

Dear Mr. Skop. I just wanted to thank you on behalf of all Florida FPL customers. It's an outrage that FPL can be so brazen and open about trying to silence you, with not one word of support from your colleagues on the commission. Are they all bought and paid for by FPL? And where are our elected officials who are supposed to be looking out for us against a monopoly company which continues to be caught in lie after lie regarding costs and rates. Although I'm only one angry customer, I would like to help in any way I can. Who else is on our side? I live in a gated community in St Lucie county and I have hundreds of email addresses throughout the state. I will forward any communication or actions to them. Thanks again for standing with us. Ms. Ann Cole, Commission Clerk

Dear Ms. Cole:

In researching the requested 30% rate hike by FPL, I would appreciate having the following points and questions put before FPL. I have confirmed with a Customer Advocate at FPL that the increase would be in the “non-fuel” charge of our monthly bill. In May our FPL bill was only 962 kwh, for some unknown reason. My average bill is 1468 kwh per month.

After 3 days of complex calculations, I took my 2009 May bill (962 kwh) and my 2009 September bill (1728 kwh), broke them down and came up with what my bills would be with the 30% increase. It looks like my May bill would go from $118.47 to $134.82. My September bill is $227.97, and that would go to $246.43.

The average fuel charge of all 9 bills this year is 53% of EACH BILL. So, a $9 reduction in the fuel charges is no help at all.

There are many variables in each electric bill, so I only adjusted the ‘Non-Fuel’ charge and left all other charges (Customer Charge, Taxes, etc.) alone.

Customer Charge is stated to be a “...fixed monthly amount to cover the administrative cost of maintaining the account, even if there was no electricity used.” This amount varies each month. In May it was $5.33 and in September is $5.52. Is that fixed?

Gross receipts tax : Why is the consumer paying this tax? The only entity receiving gross receipts is FPL. Why is this being passed on to the consumer? Shouldn't this be taken care of by FPL itself?

In conclusion I stand firm in requesting that NO INCREASE be granted to FPL, especially during these extremely depressing times of high unemployment, foreclosures and bankruptcies.

Respectfully submitted,

Marietta C. Janutolo

Read article about FPL's request for rate increase in Miami Herald. They are against it. FPL is going above and beyond what what is needed. Salaries should be cut. FPL does not need the increase. They should suffer like the rest of us. Should tighten their belt like everyone else.

They are both on social security and would appreciate a "no" vote.

Hi Ann,

Our office has received several phone calls this morning from people wanting to leave comments regarding the FPL hearing. I told them I would pass their comments on to the Commissioner and also to you for inclusion in the docket file.

Ellie Aloviz, 2498 SW 17th Ave., Miami, FL 33145: She is opposed to the FPL rate increase and thinks it is a terrible time to be requesting one. She said we need FPL, but she is opposed to granting it.

Tamara Richards, 704 Jeranimo Drive, Coral Gables, FL 33146: She is against the FPL rate increase.

Michael Bonita, 13100 SW 14th Place, Davie, FL: Against request for 30% rate increase by FPL. He is a disabled Veteran from the Korean War. All of his expenses have gone up. He lives off his Social Security and he is not getting an increase in that. He said he can not afford another increase in his bill, not even another dime. He said many of the other retirees in the community are the same way. He said please vote against the rate increase.

Subject: Please read this Aug 12 Wall Street Journal Article Regarding Plummeting Electricity Prices & Demand Across the Nation

The Commission cannot profess to represent and protect the public and allow FPL an outrageous price increase in the middle of the worst recession in 50 years. This WALL STREET JOURNAL article was published FRONT PAGE just last week. August 12 Please do your job and read it again. If you raise prices you will be responsible for thousands of additional layoffs including MY company that has been in business for 13 years. Here is the best quote.

"There's more supply than demand and prices are really low so it doesn't make sense to build anything," says John Shelk, president of the Electric Power Supply Association in Washington, D.C., a group that represents power generators.

AUGUST 12, 2009
Electricity Prices Plummet
By REBECCA SMITH

Slack demand for electricity across the U.S. is leading to some of the sharpest reductions in power prices in recent years, offering a break for consumers and businesses who just a year ago were getting crunched by massive electricity bills.

On Friday, the nation's largest wholesale power market serving parts of 13 states east of the Rockies is expected to report that electricity demand fell 4.4% in the first half of the year. That helped to push down spot market prices by 40% during the first half of this year.

Wholesale electricity – power furnished to utilities and other big energy users – cost an average of $40 a megawatt hour in the region, down from $66.40 a year earlier. The price declines in this market, which extends from Delaware to Michigan, come on top of a 2.7% drop in energy use in 2008 over 2007.

The falloff in demand represents a reversal of what has been one of the steadiest trends in business. For decades, the utility sector could rely on a gradual increase in electricity demand. In 45 of the past 58 years, year-over-year growth exceeded 2%. In fact, there only have been five years since 1950 in which electricity demand has dropped in absolute terms.

But this year is shaping up to have the sharpest falloff in more than half a century, and coming on top of declines in 2008, could be the first period of consecutive annual declines since at least 1950.

Dramatic price reductions don't immediately mean lower power bills for all consumers. That's because many customers pay prices based on long-term contracts. But lower prices will have a softening effect over time.

In California and Texas, a combination of cheap natural gas and lower industrial demand is putting pressure on prices.

Journal Community

" Good timing for the U.S. to move away from its carbon obesity era. "

—Barrie Harrop

In the Houston pricing zone, which has many power-gobbling refineries and chemical plants, the spot market price was $61.82 in June, versus $129.48 a megawatt hour a year earlier. Power demand in Texas is down 3.2% so far this year due to business contraction and reductions in employment which are causing many households to economize.

Just a year ago, many businesses and residential customers were reeling from electricity prices on the spot market that had spiked to historic highs, driven by high fuel prices and hot summer weather. Some businesses curtailed their operations because electricity and natural gas were too pricey.

But the flagging economy has resulted in a slump in demand that has jolted some energy markets. American Electric Power Co. and Southern Co., for example, both reported double-digit drops in industrial electricity use for the past quarter.

Meanwhile, natural gas, which strongly influences electricity prices, has fallen below $4 per million BTUs, or British thermal units. That's down from $12 at last year's peak.

For many businesses, the cost of electricity represents one of the few bright spots in a dismal economy. Andy Morgan, president of Pickard China Inc. in Antioch, Ill., which makes fine china, figures his electricity cost is down 30% to 40%.

Last year, when everything was spiking, he looked at different options -- including negotiating a fixed-price contract for energy with a supplier. He says he held off and now he's happy he did.

"We've definitely reaped savings," says Mr. Morgan, adding that "especially in a down economy, you'll take whatever you can get. That's one of the few blessings during this storm."

Slowdowns at major industrial companies such as Alcoa Inc. help account for the decline in electricity usage this year. The recession and drop in consumer demand for products that contain aluminum has caused the company to idle 20% of its smelting capacity world-wide this year.

In the U.S. the company has cut production at smelters, which are traditionally big energy users, in New York, Tennessee and Texas. Kevin Lowery, a company spokesman, said he did not believe that Alcoa has saved much money thus far because the company primarily purchases electricity through 25- to 35-year contracts.

Steel Dynamics Inc. is benefiting from lower pricing. The company operates five steel mills, with four purchasing electricity at spot market prices in Indiana, Virginia and West Virginia. The benefit, though, is smaller than it might be because the steelmaker is producing less steel this year.

"We're producing fewer tons, but every ton we produce we seek to minimize the costs and electricity is one of those," said Fred Warner, a company spokesman. Its mills are running at 50% capacity this year, down from 85% capacity last year.

Some wonder whether the deregulated markets of the Eastern U.S., Midwest, Texas and California will be especially hard hit if demand comes roaring back. That's because utilities in these markets no longer are required to build new resources. It's left up to the power generators to determine when the market conditions are ripe.

"There's more supply than demand and prices are really low so it doesn't make sense to build anything," says John Shelk, president of the Electric Power Supply Association in Washington, D.C., a group that represents power generators.

Many electricity markets throughout the country have implemented demand reduction programs that give consumers a further incentive to reduce power use. The 13-state PJM Interconnection market has been one of the most aggressive – and has seen one of the steepest price drops.

A new report from the region's official market monitor found a strong correlation between falling prices and an increase in demand-reduction programs. In the PJM market, energy users can collect money through an auction process for pledging to cut energy use in future periods.

In May, PJM conducted an auction to ensure it will have the resources it believes it will need in 2012-13. About 6% of the winning bids came from those who pledged to cut energy use by a total of 8,000 megawatts in that future period.

I cannot believe that your company can have the audacity to ask for such a large increase when so many families are without jobs, losing their homes, and are struggling to pay the already high utility bills. I ask that you reconsider doing this at all, but if your financial situation truly warrants making some kind of increase, why not something a little more affordable, like 10-15%. I ask you all to consider this for all our sakes.

Hello!

I am writing to ask you to deny any rate increase for Florida Power and Light at this time, and to ask that you take this request under serious consideration. While many local charities are seeing tremendous increases in the volume of utility bills, we also know that FP&L takes a hard stance with those who are most desperate, such as those currently unemployed and those who will not get any cost of living increase this year, especially those people receiving Social Security. Though I live in a community which has one of the highest per capita income rates in the United States, this does not preclude us from having residents who live at, or below, the poverty line and struggle to maintain a dignified standard of living.

Please seriously consider postponing any rate increases until the condition of our economy improves substantially.

Thank you for your time and your service to our government.

Subject: Agenda Item # 080677/090130-EI - FPL Rate Case

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Please do not allow FPL to raise their rates by 30% or any other amount. I speak as a customer and a resident of Florida. In these current desperate economic times it is not necessary to increase the cost of a basic necessity in order to "improve future needs". Please consider the following:

- I volunteer at a local food pantry and help resource for the displaced, homeless, jobless, very poor. Our St. Joseph Catholic Community/St. Vincent de Paul Society assists an average of 60-70 families a month with FPL shut-off notices. This amounts to approximately $1,500/month. These families are usually overwhelmed with medical expenses, job layoffs, reduced work hours, etc. There is also assistance from many other resources, so these numbers are just a drop in the bucket. If clients can't meet the current prices, how can they absorb an increase?
- My husband and I are retired. We will NOT be receiving any increases in our Social Security in 2010. Last month we had $79.70 left at the end of the month. Where are we supposed to find an additional 30% to pay our electric bill?
- This past month our "fuel charge" was $90.92 (Actual cost of the fuel to produce and deliver our electricity). Our "non-fuel" charge was $77.76 (cost of fuel used to produce and deliver our electricity except fuel). Each month in 2009 our electric usage has been between 100 and 250 kwh LESS than the year before, but our bills have been higher.

In conclusion I feel that Florida Power and Light is currently covering their expenses, possibly with a small profit. Any increase at this time is inappropriate and greedy. FPL may be ready to move ahead but not on the backs of those who are falling behind.

Dear Chairman and Commissioners:

I'm writing to request that you deny Florida Power and Light any increase in electric rates for South Florida. Their request for a 31% increase is absolutely unreasonable in the economic climate that we are in. People are suffering enough without FPL adding to the burden. This is outrageous.

It's boggles one's mind how this company can be investor-owned when it is the only source of electrical service to thousands of homes. That should never be permitted. How can a profit-making company be allowed to even make such a request for further increase to their bottom line? I'm sorry, but something is terribly wrong here. And the fact that they refuse, absolutely refuse, to be accountable to the public (who has no choice but to deal with them) about the executive salaries, stock and bonus information is an abomination. Who do these people think they are????
There comes a time when people are screaming, ENOUGH IS ENOUGH. This is the time.

As representatives for the public good, you are charged with the responsibility to protect the public. We need wisdom and leadership and it's time for that! I applaud the PSC for its insistence that the executive compensation be divulged. Please stay that course, and pursue with utmost diligence a restriction on rate increases. The people cannot handle any additional increase to their living expenses.

Dear Commissioner Skop:

I am writing as a citizen and taxpayer to ask you to deny Florida Power & Light's request for a rate increase in order to raise its rate of return on equity. The issue of profitability to shareholders is NOT the responsibility or burden of taxpaying residents. We have no choice but to use FP&L as our energy source; it is not right or fair that despite having no choice, our payments finance profits for investors (not to mention excessive, and in some cases, outrageous, salary and benefit packages for FP&L executives). This is an industry that must be responsibly regulated by government.

Please do the right thing. The citizens of Florida are counting on you.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Please do not allow FPL to raise their rates by 30% or any other amount. I speak as a customer and a resident of Florida. In these current desperate economic times it is not necessary to increase the cost of a basic necessity in order to "improve future needs". Please consider the following:

- I volunteer at a local food pantry and help resource for the displaced, homeless, jobless, very poor. Our St. Joseph Catholic Community/St. Vincent de Paul Society assists an average of 60-70 families a month with FPL shut-off notices. This amounts to approximately $1,500/month. These families are usually overwhelmed with medical expenses, job layoffs, reduced work hours, etc. There is also assistance from many other resources, so these numbers are just a drop in the bucket. If clients can't meet the current prices, how can they absorb an increase?
- My husband and I are retired. We will NOT be receiving any increases in our Social Security in 2010. Last month we had $79.70 left at the end of the month. Where are we supposed to find an additional 30% to pay our electric bill?

- This past month our "fuel charge" was $90.92 (Actual cost of the fuel to produce and deliver our electricity). Our "non-fuel" charge was $77.76 (cost of fuel used to produce and deliver our electricity except fuel). Each month in 2009 our electric usage has been between 100 and 250 kwh LESS than the year before, but our bills have been higher.

In conclusion I feel that Florida Power and Light is currently covering their expenses, possibly with a small profit. Any increase at this time is inappropriate and greedy. FPL may be ready to move ahead but not on the backs of those who are falling behind.

I protest FPL raising their prices one more dime. Due to the current unemployment rate and the fact that there will be no increase in Social Security Payments to the elderly this year and the fact that FPL is a monopoly in our area, they should not be allowed to raise their prices one penny!

Subject: Deny FPL's rate increase request

Dear Commissioner McMurrian:

I am writing as a citizen and taxpayer to ask you to deny Florida Power & Light's request for a rate increase in order to raise its rate of return on equity. The issue of profitability to shareholders is NOT the responsibility or burden of taxpaying residents. We have no choice but to use FP&L as our energy source; it is not right or fair that despite having no choice, our payments finance profits for investors (not to mention excessive, and in some cases, outrageous, salary and benefit packages for FP&L executives). This is an industry that must be responsibly regulated by government.

Please do the right thing. The citizens of Florida are counting on you.

Sincerely,
Tina Montalvo

Hello!

I am writing to ask you to deny any rate increase for Florida Power and Light at this time, and to ask that you take this request under serious consideration. While many local charities are seeing tremendous increases in the volume of utility bills, we also know that FP&L takes a hard stance with those who are most desperate, such as those currently unemployed and those who will not get any cost of living increase this year, especially those people receiving Social Security. Though I live in a community which has one of the highest per capita income rates in the United States, this does not preclude us from having residents who live at, or below, the poverty line and struggle to maintain a dignified standard of living.

Please seriously consider postponing any rate increases until the condition of our economy improves substantially.

Thank you for your time and your service to our government.

Dear Commissioner Skop,

My name is Michael W. Putkowski. I'm e-mailing you to ask that you and the P.S.C. stop the F.P.L. (company code EI802) rate increase. I don't think now is the time for the people of Florida the pay bigger electric bills. This will only add more stress to every one. Please do all you can for the people of Florida.

Thank you in advance for your time.

Subject: FPL rate increase is Wrong

Dear Commissioner skop,

Thank you for taking the time to read my email. My name is Bryan Freeman, I live in Titusville.

I am disgusted that FPL would even consider a rate hike. FPL has taken their bills within the last 4 years and reworked the charges so that expenses are line itemed and they can then claim that they haven't increased that particular line item for so long that it's time they do. This continued unchecked greed is outrageous and completely unacceptable.

FPL claims that they are going to only add an extra $12 a month to the bill that was already inflated by FPL to pay for clean up, Nuclear Power, Fuel Cost, Non-Fuel cost, and the MOST ridiculous and outrageous charge the "storm surcharge." My electric bill in 4 years has gone from $68 a month to $188 a month and now FPL says I can afford another $12 a month? Well, FPL does not do my finances nor have they access to my budget. I can tell you that I can not afford an extra $12 a month. Do you realize what has happened here? If you add the extra $12 a month onto my already inflated bill of $188 that mean my electric bill has increased from $68 a month to $200 in the span of 4 years. THAT is OUTRAGEOUS.

What are my options? None. Do I have a choice of electric companies? NO. I am not afforded another company to switch to. FPL just continues on this path of raping the citizens of this state and it appears that the commission has no problem with this continuing.

As citizens are losing their jobs and houses, FPL is paying out dividends to their stock holders and then demanding that we as consumers pay more and more.

Commissioner Edgar, We have reached a point where there is nothing left. We do not have anymore money to give. It is time the commission stand up for the citizens of this state and stop this blatant theft by FPL.

FPL intentionally with malice and fore thought, scheduled today's meeting on a weekday and during working hours. Unlike the Corporations that are vested in FPL, we the citizens have to work for a living and are left hoping beyond hope that someone will stand and fight these ridiculous charges.

Out of the display today it is reported that there were 28 people in favor of the increase. 15 of them were Corporate Representatives! Corporate entities. 18 were against the increase.

FPL has to be reminded of exactly why they are there, and whom they serve. And that is why we have the commission. You must act to stop this nonsense. The people of Florida are demanding the increase, and all subsequent increase requests by FPL be denied!!!
