Interesting...

By copy of this e-mail, I'm letting Becky know it was rejected, per our telephone conversation and that she will need to re-file it on behalf of a staff member associated with the docket.

Eric, please place this e-mail in administrative correspondence. Thanks, Ann

I also need the reject button... it is currently grayed out. So, I am unable to reject it. I can only move it...

Dorothy, please reject this filing. I contacted Becky Zarate and told her to file on behalf of the staff person instructing her to file this in the docket.

Benji, would you please modify staff's e-filing instructional line, to make it more clear for future filers and for our processing staff?

This is what the filing info say. BZarate is not a staff member on the docket because she is a staff assistant. This doesn't tell me who is filing the document.

The purpose of staff's cover memo was to instruct CLK who is filing the document and what docket it needs to be filed in. E-filing provides this information already, so a memo is no longer necessary. If staff wishes to provide filing a memo, that's up to them, but it is not mandatory.

Or is it business as usual and they need to have a cover memo with instructions to clerk on processing the document?
