Dear Commissioner Patronis:

The issue before the PSC is substantive and legally compelling. The present situation is blatantly unfair and goes against basic rights of the citizen rate payers.

There is a great deal of law and precedent against unregulated monopolies (Vero Beach Utilities for Indian River Shores rate payers) in the U.S. Given the PSC's own role statement on the PSC's web site: "committed to making sure Florida's consumers receive some of their most essential services in a safe, reasonable, and reliable manner."

It seems to me the 'reasonable' thing for the PSC to do is listen to the 'consumers' in Indian River Shores and find for the towns wish to switch to FPL.

Sincerely,

Emmett J. Harty
