Subject: FPL Profits

I've lived in Florida for 40 years and for the last 20, it seems that there is no PSC looking out for taxpayers. For FPL to be looking for MORE profits than the 1.6 BILLION they are raking in now is obscene. Furthermore, why should the taxpayer be charged for mistakes made at Turkey Point re the cooling canals. Having no liability offers FPL no reason to be truthful or even careful when they make their plans. I'd love it if mistakes made by me in business were considered an add-on to the customer. No accountability required? FPL should never have been allowed to upgrade Turkey Point in the first place as this was clearly the reason the canals started to fail. It is obvious since Fukushima that nuclear power is too dangerous on the coast, same plant design and millions of people within a 50 mile radius. So naturally, the PSC decides to let FPL bill us IN ADVANCE for two more plants that will never be built. Why can't the PSC push FPL to invest in more renewables and stop gouging the Florida taxpayer?
