Subject: FPL Rate Increase

I am a medically retired senior living on a small fixed income. I can only afford a small air conditioner for my bedroom which means the rest of my house is unusable in this heat. I have to prepare meals late at night for the next day taking advantage of the cooler hours. I grocery shop totally by sales. I use every opportunity to save money even if it means wearing something several times before washing it. If it weren't for the VA, I'm sure I would have to decide between medicines or food. I can't afford another rate hike. I'm sure that there are others much worse off than me that aren't aware of this or can't speak. So please remember those like us when you make your decision.

Sincerely,
Pamela E. Johnson
