Comments : About 30 days prior to the storm the power lines were broken by a falling branch. The storm caused another branch to break the same lines again, this time for 7 days. We have a FPL right of way that is fenced in on all sides that is way overgrown and the utility company will not clean up. The lines are full of vines and the poles covered with debris. This is FPL property. There are wires on the ground from years of neglect but FPL claims it is consumers responsibility. We have outages about 3 times a year and it is the same 71 homes effected every time. Please advise.
