Comments : It is absolute that FPL is made to be much more accountable to the consumer; responsible to its basic purpose; and less of a true rip-off. Every time they want money, for something beyond normal, they come to you and, basically, get it carte blanche; and, then, we, the consumer, never see the results intended. Also, they simply act to pass on extraordinary costs and ask for more, on top of that. Pure and simple, they are totally defined by monopolistic practices and pure profit motivation ... having one of the highest dividend structures, for its stockholders; exorbitant executive pay, as well as golden parachute packages; and much higher than normal profit margins. And, finally, one has to ask where the $300+ Million you granted, after Hurricane Wilma, to bury cables and improve the network went, when in this latest fiasco it took nearly a week to regain power?!?!?

All in all, its a sham and you had better step-up and do you appointed job, instead of being but a subsidiary of FPL
