Comments : The proposed rate increases are an outrage. FPL has received lots of funds over the last years expressly to prepare for hurricanes by putting lines underground and trimming trees and replacing poles - how much was done before Irma? If things were done, why didn't they work? My neighborhood was among the last to have power restored and we have underground power lines. Why do we continue to throw good money after bad - surely someone can do a better job going forward and that company deserves our funds.
