Re: Public Service Commission Rule 25-6.097

Dear Chris:

I have completed a review of rule 25-6.097 and prepared the following comments for your consideration and response.

The rule requires the establishment of credit and security deposits by customers of public utilities. Various statutes are identified as law implemented. These statutes pertain generally to the Commission's authority to fix the rates, charges, fares, tolls, or rentals to be observed and charged by public utilities, and to require terms governing the service provided to customers. However, all of the statutes cited as law implemented or rulemaking authority are silent with regard to the establishment of credit or customer deposits.

The 1996 amendments to the Administrative Procedure Act set forth a more rigid test for measuring an agency's rulemaking authority than had previously existed. Section 120.536(1), F.S., the "map-tack" provision states as follows:

A grant of rulemaking authority is necessary but not sufficient to allow an agency to adopt a rule; a specific law to be implemented is also required. An agency may adopt only rules that implement, interpret, or make specific the particular powers Ms. Moore February 5, 1999 Page 2 and duties granted by the enabling statute. No agency shall have authority to adopt a rule only because it is reasonably related to the purpose of the enabling legislation and is not arbitrary and capricious, nor shall an agency have the authority to implement statutory provisions setting forth general legislative intent or policy. Statutory language granting rulemaking authority or generally describing the powers and functions of an agency shall be construed to extend no further than the particular powers and duties conferred by the same statute. (e.s.)

In light of the provisions above, please apprise me of the statute(s) which authorizes the Commission to require the establishment of credit and customer deposits. Are the security deposits part of the rates, charges, fares, tolls, or rentals referred to? If not, does the Commission intend to seek legislative authority for the rule?

Sincerely,

John Rosner Staff Attorney

Re: Public Service Commission Rules 25-6.097 and 25-7.083, Customer Deposits

Dear Mr. Rosner:

This letter is written to respond to your letters of February 5, 1999, and February 9, 1999, about the Commission's authority for the above rules. Customer deposits are regulated by the Commission under its statutory authority to prescribe charges and pursuant to its authority to preseribe service rules to be observed by each public utility.

The Commission intends to file these rules for adoption on Friday, February 19, 1999. Please do not hesitate to call me if you have questions.

Sincerely yours.

Christiana T. Moore Associate General Counsel
