Dear Florida Public Service Commission,

Hi my name is Thomas Blazier and I live in North Fort Myers.

The plant at Turkey Point needs to be closed and cleaned up. It from FPL 's description is a GE plant with the identical design flaw as the plant in Japan that as I write is still melting down .If the category five hurricane that was stationary over the Bahamas did that in Biscayne Bay there would be a major accident, melt down here. Lower energy bills would be the least of your problems.

I am writing to urge you to reject the request by Florida utilities to have a goal of zero (or nearly zero) on energy efficiency for the next ten years.

I am concerned that if the energy efficiency goals are abandoned, the utilities will stop providing the kinds of services that help people lower their power bills. People shouldn't have to choose between paying for food, medicine, or rent and being comfortable in their own homes.

Florida is ranked near the bottom of the nation in terms of energy efficiency — we should be increasing energy efficiency measures, not abandoning them. We know that increasing energy efficiency is one of the cheapest and easiest ways to fight the global warming that's causing neighborhood flooding and other serious problems in Florida.

When this issue comes back before you, I ask you please to vote to strengthen our energy efficiency goals.

Regards,
Thomas Blazier
