Dear Florida Public Service Commission,

Hi my name is Judith Mears and I live in Leesburg.

I live in Leesburg, a small town in Lake County, Fl and want to commend them on keeping utilities down for all of our residents. They won a prestigious award this year for keeping costs down, so I would encourage all other communities who are serious about their citizens to contact our town leaders for a lesson in working together for the betterment of the community.

I am writing to urge you to reject the request by Florida utilities to have a goal of zero (or nearly zero) on energy efficiency for the next ten years.

I am concerned that if the energy efficiency goals are abandoned, the utilities will stop providing the kinds of services that help people lower their power bills. People shouldn't have to choose between paying for food, medicine, or rent and being comfortable in their own homes.

Florida is ranked near the bottom of the nation in terms of energy efficiency — we should be increasing energy efficiency measures, not abandoning them. We know that increasing energy efficiency is one of the cheapest and easiest ways to fight the global warming that's causing neighborhood flooding and other serious problems in Florida.

When this issue comes back before you, I ask you please to vote to strengthen our energy efficiency goals.

Regards,
Judith Mears
