A. APPLICATION

1. This tariff applies to long distance message telecommunications service furnished or made available by the Company and its connecting companies between two or more points which are located in the same Local Access and Transport Area (LATA) within the State of Florida where the respective rate centers of such points also are located in said state.

B. GENERAL

1. Long distance message telecommunications service is that of furnishing facilities for communications between stations in different rate centers for either two-point or conference service.
2. Rates for service between points are based on airline mileage between rate centers. Airline mileages between rate centers are determined as provided in Section E.2. following.
3. In case a shortage of facilities exists at any time, either for temporary or protracted periods, the establishment of long distance message telecommunications service shall take precedence over all others.

E. AIRLINE MILEAGE BETWEEN RATE CENTERS

1. General

- a. For the purpose of determining airline mileages vertical and horizontal grid lines have been established across the State of Florida. The spacing between adjacent vertical grid lines and between horizontal grid lines represents a distance of one coordinate unit. This unit is the square root of 0.1 expressed in airline miles. A vertical (V) and a horizontal (H) coordinate is computed for each rate center from its latitude and longitude location by use of appropriate map-projection equations. These rate centers and their V and H coordinates are shown in Section E.3. A pair of V-H coordinates locates a rate center, for determining airline mileages, at a particular intersection of an established vertical grid line with an established horizontal grid line. The distance between any two rate centers is the airline mileage computed as explained in Section E.2. following.
- b. The rate centers in this Tariff are listed alphabetically in Section E.3. following, with columns headed "V" and "H" which contain the vertical and horizontal coordinates for each of these rate centers.

2. Determination of Airline Mileage

- a. To determine the rate distance between any two rate centers proceed as follows:
 - (1.) Obtain the V and H coordinates for each rate center.
 - (2.) Obtain the difference between the V coordinates of the two rate centers. Obtain the difference between the H coordinates.
 - (3.) Square each difference obtained in 2. preceding.
 - (4.) Add the square of the "V" difference and the "H" difference obtained in 3. preceding.

E. AIRLINE MILEAGE BETWEEN RATE CENTERS

2. Determination of Airline Mileage

a. To determine the rate distance between any two rate centers proceed as follows:
 (cont'd)

(5.) Divide the sum of the squares obtained in (4.) preceding by 10.

(6.) Obtain the square root of the result obtained in (5.) preceding. This is the rate distance in miles. (Fractional miles being considered as full miles.)

EXAMPLE:

The rate distance is required between City One and City Two.

	V	H
City One	7021	1281
City Two	6873	1894
	Difference	148
	Squared	21,904 = 375,769 = 397,673

$397,673 \div 10 = 39767.3$ Square Rooted = 199.4 = 200 Airline miles

Note: The difference is always obtained by subtracting the smaller coordinate from the larger coordinate.

A. EXTENSION LINE MILEAGE

(M)

1. General

a. The basic rates for extension stations and PBX stations as specified elsewhere in this tariff are for such stations which are located within the same building as the main station or PBX switchboard. Where extension stations or PBX stations are provided at other locations, and for other circuit extensions of similar character, such as bells, or gongs, extension line mileage charges are applicable as set forth below, in addition to the basic rates applicable to the particular service against which mileage charges are assessed.

b. Mileage charges are computed separately for each extension line on direct airline measurements as follows:

- (1) When isolated wire or cable is placed, the direct airline mileage is measured point-to-point, i.e., from the location of the extension station, PBX station, or other service.
- (2) When the extension line is bridged to the main line in the central office, the direct airline mileage is measured from the location of the serving central office (i.e., the central office serving the main station of PBX where the extension line is bridged) via any intermediate central office if necessary, to the location of the extension station, PBX station, or other service.

a. Where, for the purpose of furnishing extension lines, it is necessary to lay underground conduit or to set poles on the subscriber's premises, the subscriber may be required to provide and install such underground conduit and to provide and erect such poles, or the Company will do the work at the subscriber's expense. Where the work is performed by the subscriber, it must be in accordance with the standard specifications of the Company.

LONG DISTANCE MESSAGE TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE

E. AIRLINE MILEAGE BETWEEN RATE CENTERS

1. General

- a. For the purpose of determining airline mileages vertical and horizontal grid lines have been established across the State of Florida. The spacing between adjacent vertical grid lines and between horizontal grid lines represents a distance of one coordinate unit. This unit is the square root of 0.1 expressed in airline miles. A vertical (V) and a horizontal (H) coordinate is computed for each rate center from its latitude and longitude location by use of appropriate map-projection equations. These rate centers and their V and H coordinates are shown in Section E.3. A pair of V-H coordinates locates a rate center, for determining airline mileages, at a particular intersection of an established vertical grid line with an established horizontal grid line. The distance between any two rate centers is the airline mileage computed as explained in Section E.2. following.
- b. The rate centers in this Tariff are listed alphabetically in Section E.3. following, with columns headed "V" and "H" which contain the vertical and horizontal coordinates for each of these rate centers.

2. Determination of Airline Mileages

- a. To determine the rate distance between any two rate centers proceed as follows:
- (1.) Obtain the V and H coordinates for each rate center.
 - (2.) Obtain the difference between the V coordinates of the two rate centers. Obtain the difference between the H coordinates.
 - (3.) Square each difference obtained in 2. preceding.
 - (4.) Add the squares of the "V" difference and the "H" difference obtained in 3. preceding.

E. AIRLINE MILEAGE BETWEEN RATE CENTERS (cont'd)

2. Determination of Airline Mileages (cont'd)

a. To determine the rate distance between any two rate centers, proceed as follows: (cont'd)

(5.) Divide the sum of the squares obtained in (4.) preceding by 10.

(6.) Obtain the square root of the result obtained in (5.) preceding. This is the rate distance in miles. (Fractional miles being considered as full miles.)

EXAMPLE:

The rate distance is required between City One and City Two.

	V	H
City One	7021	1281
City Two	6873	1894
Difference	148	613
Squared	21,904 + 375,769 =	397,673

$397,673 \div 10 = 39767.3$ Square Rooted = 199.4 = 200 Airline miles

Note: The difference is always obtained by subtracting the smaller coordinate from the larger coordinate.

A. EXTENSION LINE MILEAGE

1. General

- a. The basic rates for extension stations and PBX stations as specified elsewhere in this tariff are for such stations which are located within the same building as the main station or PBX switchboard. Where extension stations or PBX stations are provided at other locations, and for other circuit extensions of similar character, such as bells, or gongs, extension line mileage charges are applicable as set forth below, in addition to the basic rates applicable to the particular service against which mileage charges are assessed.
- b. Mileage charges are computed separately for each extension line on direct airline measurements as follows:
 - (1) When isolated wire or cable is placed, the direct airline mileage is measured point-to-point, i.e., from the location of the extension station, PBX station, or other service.
 - (2) When the extension line is bridged to the main line in the central office, the direct airline mileage is measured from the location of the serving central office (i.e., the central office serving the main station of PBX where the extension line is bridged) via any intermediate central office if necessary, to the location of the extension station, PBX station, or other service.
- a. Where, for the purpose of furnishing extension lines, it is necessary to lay underground conduit or to set poles on the subscriber's premises, the subscriber may be required to provide and install such underground conduit and to provide and erect such poles, or the Company will do the work at the subscriber's expense. Where the work is performed by the subscriber, it must be in accordance with the standard specifications of the Company.

15. Timing of Calls

- a. Chargeable time begins when connection is established between a station associated with the WATS access line and the calling or called station, and ends when the calling station "hangs up" thereby releasing the network connection. If the called station "hangs up" but the calling station does not, chargeable time ends when the network connection is released by automatic timing equipment in the telephone network.
- b. When a connection is established in one rate period and ends in another, the rate in effect for each rate period applies to the portion of the connection occurring within that rate period.
- c. The rate charged is determined by the day and time (standard or daylight savings) at the WATS access line location.
- d. When 800 Service is directly connected (i.e., not connected through a Multiline Terminating System) at a Customer's premises to a communications system, chargeable time begins when the 800 Service call terminates in or passes through the first multiline terminating system or terminal equipment on that communications system. It is the Customer's responsibility to furnish appropriate answer supervision to the point of connection with the 800 Service so that chargeable time may begin.

16. Directory Listing (800 Service Only)
