Good afternoon,

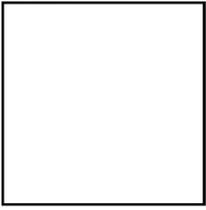

I personally favor supporting the FPL rate increase. I understand how hard it is to deliver inexpensive electricity and energy to South Florida given the constant growth, and other variables that may affect what you do. Being a part of restaurant business, I appreciate how quickly FPL works to restore power in all the neighborhoods after major storms, and outages. Many times, I've heard from family, and friends in other states where it takes a greater period of time to have energy up and running. So, it certainly doesn't go unnoticed the hard work your team puts in year in, and year out.

Regards,
