Really? FPL screws up and we have to pay for it? If I mess up my property I will be contacted by my HOA and be directed to clean up my property. What do you think would be their response if I asked them to assess everyone else in my development to pay for some company to clean up my property?

Doesn't that logic work for FPL? Or, are we all just a bunch of "useless idiots". FPL request sounds like a another public be screwed scenario.
