Dear Commissioner

First of all, as a Senior citizen like so many people in Florida, this would be an added cost onto people on fixed incomes that are already seeing costs go up due to inflation. Secondly, there are enough people moving to Florida to add to your coffers. Lastly, this is likely to help pay for solar and other so called green energy projects that will lead us into the same issues that California has with the rolling blackouts or into a situation like Texas had where the new technologies could not support the same needs as the older, more reliable technologies sources.

Thank you,

Janie Locke
