My electric bill just went up with a extra minimum base charge. I guess the commission gave fpl the go ahead to do this. Every time you let one company to take over another, they find a way to profit off that. And it always seems to raise rates. What is wrong with making those who use the most electric pay or better yet, stop electric companies from being for profit. That way you will not have all the profiteering and political parties using it for there gain.

At the expense of folks who are trying to keep their bills low. Corporate control of our country is not a good thing. Jim King, Palm Coast.
