Not sure who is doing the math here. FPL is spending billions on Chinese solar panels, inverters and batteries that cost 10x as much as constant duty on-demand energy!

We do not need intermittent power generation at an extraordinary cost!

This will result in our already high energy costs increase 40%. Are you trying to get people to leave the state?

Do want the CCP to shut down these sources at will?

Respectfully,

To whom it may concern:

I am writing in support of the proposed FPL rate increase. As a Florida resident for the past 25 years, I've experienced many hurricanes, and each time, FPL has played a vital role in helping my family, friends, and community recover. Their commitment to restoring power quickly and efficiently has had a direct and positive impact on our lives.

As someone in the restaurant business, I especially appreciate FPL's responsiveness. After major storms, timely power restoration is critical—not only for food safety but also for getting businesses up and running again. I've seen the contrast in other states, where delays from local utility companies severely affect small businesses' ability to bounce back.

FPL continues to provide reliable, affordable service, and I believe their investment in infrastructure and preparedness deserves our support.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Pablo Rodriguez

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing in support of the proposed FPL rate increase. As someone who has personally experienced the benefits of FPL's service, I can attest to their commitment to providing affordable and reliable energy throughout South Florida.

Working in the restaurant industry, I particularly appreciate the speed and efficiency with which FPL restores power following major storms. I have colleagues in other states whose power providers take much longer to respond after severe weather, which severely affects their businesses' ability to function and recover.

Thank you for taking my perspective into account.

To whom it may concern,

I just wanted to share my support for the FPL rate increase. I've personally seen the great work FPL does to provide affordable electricity here in South Florida. Being in the restaurant business, I really appreciate how fast FPL gets power back on after big storms. It makes a huge difference for us.

I have friends in other states whose power companies take way longer to restore service after weather events—and that delay hits their businesses hard. We're lucky to have FPL responding the way they do.

Thanks for taking the time to read this.

Greetings,

I just wanted to express that I'm in full on favor of the FPL rate increase. I've seen the great work FPL does to provide affordable and reliable electricity here in So Flo. Being in the restaurant space I truly appreciate the quick response after major storms. Power restorations are usually expedited and this has played a major role in ensuring business back up and running- contrary to my friends who I speak with in other states I know how lucky we are.

Thanks in advance,

Will

I am in favor of the rate increase. Having gone through some major storms I understand how hard FPL works to restore power and innovate new technology to strengthen our grid.

Thanks, Peter
