Dear Florida Public Service Commissioners,

For decades, Florida has been the home state of choice for retirees across the country. Not in small part because of the cost of living. Once upon a time Florida offered retirees a minimal cost, comfortable place to retiree and enjoy their golden years.

Unfortunately, the advantage of a reasonable cost of living is no longer standard in Florida. Retirees from NJ & NY no see a dramatic drop in expenses as they once did.

The FPL proposed changes will further erode that advantage. For years we have been told how FPL has diversified sources of energy to keep their rates low. While I see no increase in the cost of the sun, or dramatic changes to our Neuclear stations - for some reason FPL is unable to avoid cost increases for regular customers.

While I recognize it isn't that simple, I do question why the cost increases on consumers is necessary when there are so many other options. Is Brightline paying its fair share of the electricity it uses for our new railway system?

I respectfully request that you consider alternatives rate plans and minimize the impact of FPL cost increases on consumers, especially retirees. Thank you.

Sincerely,
