I am writing to you about the Grenelefe utility referendum that was just done. Unfortunately, I was not able to speak simply because my Internet went down.

In the beginning of this, we had met with several of the county commissioners and they said to put five houses per acre on this property. He would have to move the sewage plant completely off of the property. Since that time the county has reconsidered that and put a $20 million Band-Aid on this problem. Another huge white elephant in the room is not just a sewage plant but as you've heard the pipes. The pipes are PVC and glue and have a life expectancy of 50 years. Well, it's been 50 years or more. One estimate was $25-$35 million to replace all of the water and sewage pipes in the community.

Would this mean we would have another right increase after this increase.
