Subject: PSC approves rate hike for TECO

Dear Governor,

I want to bring to your attention the fact that my electric bill has more than doubled in the past 5 years. The commission you helped appoint has approved yet another rate hike. I want to express my deep disappointment as a republican voter.

You campaigned on lowering costs for Floridians, you have done nothing. You allow this to continue. Our property taxes also jumped, along with insurance rate. Both of which you said you would also help lower the costs.

This is doing nothing more than ensuring you big companies get their pockets lined with hard working tax payers money. You are a great disappointment. While I know you personally do nothing approve the rate hikes, you appointed the commission who does. This responsibility lays squarely at your feet.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

HILLSBOROUGH COUNTY, Fla. – Tampa Electric customers will soon start paying more for electricity.

The Florida Public Service Commission approved rate hikes this week for Tampa Electric.

What You Need To Know

- Tampa Electric customers will soon start paying more for electricity
 - The Florida Public Service Commission approved rate hikes this week for Tampa Electric
 - The rate hikes will take effect in January

The increase will come out to about $5.50 more each month. Those rate hikes will take effect in January.

Customers have already spent much of the past year paying more for costs associated with storm recovery.

Those costs will remain in place through next summer so you may see your bill go down a bit in September of 2026.

Meanwhile, Duke Energy customers are getting better news.

The PSC approved the utility's request to lower customer's bills next year. Duke said starting in March, customers can expect a $44 decrease per 1,000 kilowatt hours used.

TECO customers were just informed that another rate hike was approved by the commissioners you appointed. My electric bill this summer was over $400 a month and over a third of that is in fees. So where exactly should the consumers pull this extra from? It's unacceptable and exorbitant. Gas prices are down, no storms this year so for what? Why was this approved when you're speaking of lowering costs? Duke Energy was approved a rate decrease at the same time. We deserve actual answers.
