SECTION 63.71 APPLICATION OF AT&T

AT&T¹ applies for authority under Section 214(a) of the Communications Act, as amended, 47 U.S.C. § 214, and Section 63.71 of the Federal Communications Commission's ("Commission") rules, 47 C.F.R. § 63.71, to discontinue certain legacy TDM-based voice services in certain wire centers located in 18 states.

¹ AT&T Services, Inc. files this application on behalf of its affiliates set out in the caption.

INTRODUCTION

Through this application, AT&T seeks to discontinue on or after November 15, 2026, AT&T Residential Local Service and AT&T Business Local Exchange Access Line Service (the “Affected Services”) – legacy voice services often referred to as “POTS” – provided to approximately 90,000 customers (the “Affected Customers”) in portions of certain wire centers located in AT&T’s ILEC footprint in 18 states (the “Affected Service Area”). AT&T has previously grandfathered the Affected Services throughout the Affected Service Area.²

Over the last year, AT&T repeatedly has received streamlined approval to discontinue the Affected Services in other AT&T wire centers.³ In granting those applications, the Commission recognized that AT&T Phone – Advanced and AT&T Phone for Business – Advanced (collectively, “AP-A”)⁴ were adequate replacements for residential and business POTS under the Adequate Replacement Test (“ART”) outlined in the Commission’s 2016 Tech Transitions

² See Section 63.71 Application of AT&T, WC Dkt No. 23-400 (filed Nov. 16, 2023); id., WC Docket No. 25-48 (filed Jan. 31, 2025). AT&T has also grandfathered the Affected Services in certain wire centers included in this application pursuant to the Commission’s recent order waiving the requirement to file applications to grandfather legacy voice services. See Accelerating Wireline Broadband Deployment by Removing Barriers to Infrastructure Investment, WC Docket No. 17-84, Order, DA 25-251 (WCB rel. Mar. 20, 2025).

³ See Section 63.71 Application of AT&T, WC Dkt No. 24-220 (filed Nov. 1, 2024); id., WC Dkt No. 25-25 (filed Apr. 1, 2025); id. WC Dkt No. 25-228 (filed July 15, 2025).

⁴ AT&T recently introduced an updated and renamed version of AT&T Phone for Business – Advanced called AT&T Business Voice (“ABV”). ABV uses the same technology and customer equipment as AT&T Phone for Business – Advanced and has all the same features plus additional ones, including improved voicemail, call handling, and call screening functionality. The technical performance of ABV does not vary from AT&T Phone for Business – Advanced. ABV launched on June 17, 2025, and is in the process of being introduced to different market segments. Currently, depending on the market segment, the service may be sold to customers as ABV or AT&T Phone for Business – Advanced. For simplicity’s sake, in this application references to “AP-A” include ABV as well as AT&T Phone – Advanced and AT&T Phone for Business – Advanced.

Order.⁵ Here, as with AT&T's earlier discontinuance applications approved by the Commission, discontinuing the Affected Services will benefit the public and serve as an important step toward meeting both AT&T's and the Commission's goal of advancing next-generation communication technologies.⁶

AT&T's request for streamlined treatment of this application rests upon the availability of AP-A – as an “Adequate Replacement” service – to Affected Customers. In addition, however, mobile wireless service is widely available in the Affected Service Area, including service from Verizon, which the Commission recently found to be an adequate replacement for POTS.⁷ Affected Customers also continue to have many other cost-effective voice options to choose from, including competitive voice offerings offered over cable, fiber, fixed wireless, and satellite technologies. Affected Customers also can purchase VoIP services that run on top of fixed-wireless or satellite broadband connections.

⁵ See generally Technology Transitions, Declaratory Ruling, Second Report and Order, and Order on Reconsideration, 31 FCC Rcd 8283 (2016) (“Tech Transitions Order”).

⁶ See, e.g., Reducing Barriers to Network Improvements and Service Changes; Accelerating Network Modernization, Statement of Chairman Brendan Carr, WC Dkt No. 25-209 (rel. July 25, 2025) (“We are looking to unleash the private sector to build the modern networks of the future and ensure that providers are no longer forced to invest billions of dollars in aging technology.”); FCC, Connecting America: The National Broadband Plan at 59 (Mar. 16, 2010) (“require[ing] certain carriers to maintain POTS...is not sustainable—and...can have a number of unintended consequences, including siphoning investments away from new networks and services”).

Put plainly, the voice market has left POTS behind, with newer, more convenient, flexible, and feature-rich services taking its place. Given POTS's dwindling demand, AT&T now seeks to discontinue the Affected Services in the Affected Service Area so that it can redeploy its capital towards its next-generation networks and services.

APPLICATION

I. AP-A Satisfies the Adequate Replacement Test

When the Commission adopted the Adequate Replacement Test in 2016, it noted that “a repeat applicant for a 214 discontinuance application in the technology transition context can rely on its successful certification of compliance with all three prongs of the adequate replacement test in a previously approved application involving a substantially similar service.”⁸ A “substantially similar service” is defined as “one offered by the same applicant relying on the same technology and utilizing a comparable network infrastructure.”⁹ In this application, AT&T cites to AP-A, which the Commission previously found to satisfy the Adequate Replacement Test, as an adequate replacement for POTS.¹⁰ AP-A in the Affected Service Area uses “a comparable” – in fact, the same – network architecture as in the prior, approved applications.

¹⁰ See supra, Note 3.

As reflected in the FCC's National Broadband Map – Mobile, AT&T's LTE network covers all Affected Customers.¹¹ AP-A uses AT&T's LTE network for connectivity, therefore AP-A is available to all Affected Customers.¹²

Because AP-A previously has been found to be an adequate replacement for the Affected Services, and because AP-A is available to Affected Customers, it is an adequate replacement for the Affected Services.¹³

B. Additional Information Required by 47 C.F.R. §§ 63.71, 63.602 and 63.505

As required by Sections 63.71, 63.602, and 63.505 of the Commission's rules, AT&T provides the following additional information:

Name and Address of Carriers:

BellSouth Telecommunications, LLC, d/b/a AT&T Alabama, AT&T Florida, AT&T Georgia, AT&T Kentucky, AT&T Louisiana, AT&T Mississippi, AT&T North Carolina, AT&T South Carolina and AT&T Tennessee;

Indiana Bell Telephone Company, LLC, d/b/a AT&T Indiana;

Michigan Bell Telephone Company, LLC, d/b/a AT&T Michigan;

The Ohio Bell Telephone Company, LLC, d/b/a AT&T Ohio;

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, LLC, d/b/a AT&T Arkansas, AT&T Kansas, AT&T Missouri, AT&T Oklahoma, and AT&T Texas;

Wisconsin Bell, LLC, d/b/a AT&T Wisconsin.

¹² AP-A can work over any kind of Internet connection, but its primary connectivity is over AT&T's LTE network.

¹³ As noted above, Verizon's mobile wireless service also would constitute an adequate replacement service for Affected Customers, but AT&T does not rely on that service in making the showing necessary for streamlined treatment of this application.

The address for purposes of this application is:

208 South Akard Street
Dallas, TX 75202

Date of Planned Service Discontinuance:

Effective on or after November 15, 2026, pending regulatory approval, AT&T's Affected Services will be discontinued.

Points of Geographic Areas of Service Affected and Description of the Affected Service Area:

AT&T plans to discontinue the Affected Services in the Affected Service Area in sections of 18 states: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Missouri, Mississippi, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Wisconsin. Exhibit 1 identifies the list of AT&T wire centers in each state that include any service areas that fall within the Affected Service Area.

Brief Description of Type of Service Affected:

AT&T plans to discontinue AT&T Residential Local Service and AT&T Business Local Exchange Access Line Service in the Affected Service Area.

AT&T Residential Local Service is a TDM-based exchange access line service comprised of the serving central office line equipment and all outside plant facilities needed to connect the serving central office with the network interface at the demarcation point of the customer premises. The service includes optional custom calling features and the End User Common Line service, which allows the line to facilitate local exchange, intrastate interexchange and interstate voice calling.

AT&T Business Local Exchange Access Line Service provides individual business customers with telecommunications service within a specified geographical area for local calling and access to and from the telecommunications network for long distance service.

Brief Description of the Dates and Method of Notice to All Affected Customers:

Customer notices were sent via U.S. Mail between November 3, 2025 and November 14, 2025 for customers of AT&T Residential Local Service and on November 14, 2025 for customers of AT&T Business Local Exchange Access Line Service.¹⁴ Copies of this Application are being sent via first class U.S. Mail to the governor, public utility commission, and federally recognized tribes (if any) in the Affected Service Area, and to the Special Assistant for Telecommunications to the Secretary of Defense, as required by 63.71(a) of the Commission's rules.¹⁵

Regulatory Classification of Carrier:

AT&T offers the Affected Services pursuant to non-dominant carrier regulation.

Public Convenience and Necessity:

As explained in the Introduction, the public convenience and necessity will not be impaired by the discontinuance of the Affected Services. The demand for the Affected Services is very low, and it is economically inefficient for AT&T to continue to provide them. As the Commission's recent NPRM recognizes, incumbent LECs' share of the local voice market place has dropped from more than 99% to 25% as of June 2024.¹⁶ Moreover, customers

¹⁴ Example notices are attached at Exhibit 2.

¹⁵ Section 63.71(a) directs applicants to submit a copy of the application to the Secretary of Defense, Special Assistant for Telecommunications. However, due to restructuring within the Department of Defense, that position no longer exists. Commission staff has advised that a copy of the application be sent instead to the Department of Defense Chief Information Officer.

¹⁶ Reducing Barriers to Network Improvements and Service Changes; Accelerating Network Modernization, Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, WC Dkt Nos. 25-208, 25-209, ¶ 8 (rel. July 25, 2025) (citing Modernizing Unbundling and Resale Requirements in an Era of Next-Generation Networks and Services, Report and Order, WC Docket No. 19-308, 35 FCC Rcd 12425 ¶ 5 (2020) and FCC, Industry Analysis Division, Office of Economics and Analytics, Voice Telephone Services: Status as of June 30, 2024 at 3 fig.2 (May 2025)).

of the Affected Services have many alternatives to choose from for voice service, including services already found to be adequate replacements for POTS, AP-A and Verizon's mobile wireless service, as well as other wireless services available from T-Mobile and AT&T in particular.

Statement Identifying the Application as a Technology Transition (47 C.F.R. § 63.602(a)(2)):

The proposed discontinuance constitutes a "technology transition,"¹⁷ because Affected Customers will be required to replace their TDM-based voice service with a different technology or transmission medium when AT&T discontinues legacy voice service in this area, as there is no other TDM-based voice service available in the Affected Service Area.

Information Regarding the Price of the Service for Which Discontinuance Authority Is Sought and the Price of the Proposed Replacement Service (47 C.F.R. § 63.602(a)(3))

The average price for all customers of AT&T Residential Local Service is approximately $72 per month, plus taxes, surcharges, and fees. AP-A for consumers is available for $45 per month, plus taxes, surcharges, and fees.

On average, AT&T Business Local Exchange Access Line Service costs approximately $1,700 per month, plus taxes, surcharges, and fees.¹⁸ The business version of AP-A is offered as a service that includes the AT&T-owned and managed device installed at the customer's premises, and is available for $99.99 per month, plus taxes, surcharges, and fees.¹⁹

¹⁷ See 47 C.F.R. § 63.60(i) (defining a technology transition as "any change in service that would result in the replacement of a wireline TDM-based voice service with a service using a different technology of medium for transmission to the end user, whether internet Protocol (IP), wireless, or another type").

¹⁸ The price is before any applicable volume or term discounts. The vast majority of customers pay an effective rate of under $200 per month.

¹⁹ The price is before any applicable volume or term discounts. Customers may obtain their own broadband connectivity or purchase wireless broadband data service from AT&T for Both consumer and business customers also will realize substantial cost savings from AP-A's interoperability with legacy technologies and peripherals, which enables customers to extend the useable lifespan of their TDM-based devices.

Certification that the Information Submitted in this Application Is True and Accurate (47 C.F.R. § 63.602(a)(4)):

See the attached certification of authorized AT&T representative Susan Johnson at Exhibit 3.

Applicable Tariff Listing (47 C.F.R. § 63.505(e)):

AP-A is not a tariffed service.

Name of any other carrier or carriers providing telephone service to the community (47 C.F.R. § 63.505(g)):

No other providers offer legacy TDM-based voice service in the Affected Service Area. However, as set forth above, a number of competitors offer voice services to the individuals in some or all of the Affected Service Area via cable, fiber, fixed-wireless, satellite, CMRS, or over-the-top services.

Description of any Previous Discontinuance, Reduction, or Impairment of Service to the Community Affected by the Application (47 C.F.R. § 63.605(j)):

AT&T previously grandfathered the Affected Services in the Affected Service Area.²⁰

Number of Toll Messages (47 C.F.R. § 63.505(i)):

The amount of toll traffic on AT&T's entire network has steadily decreased as its legacy voice customers have migrated to other wireline and wireless voice service providers. Toll traffic in the Affected Service Area is likely consistent with this overall trend, although AT&T an additional charge. The business AP-A service may also be available through wholesale arrangements to business and consumer customers.

does not track the monthly number of toll messages or toll revenues in the Affected Service Area.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons identified above, the public convenience and necessity will not be adversely affected by the discontinuance of the Affected Services. AT&T respectfully requests the Commission approve its Section 63.71 Application to discontinue services.

Important Information Regarding AT&T Phone – Advanced (AP-A)

Lack of Line Power

AT&T Phone – Advanced (AP-A) does not provide line power. However, in the event of a power outage, AP-A has a built-in, rechargeable battery backup that provides up to 24 hours of power on standby.

Backup Power

- Capability to Accept Backup Power. If there is an electrical power outage that affects the electricity in your home, your AP-A device will continue to function by using its built-in back-up battery.
- Purchase and Replacement Information, Including Cost. The AP-A device includes a 24-hour backup battery at no additional cost. If you would like to purchase an additional battery, you may do so through AT&T for $89 before sales tax.
- Service Limitations with and without Backup Power. The backup battery will power the AP-A device, but it will not power other equipment like medical and security-monitoring systems. During a power outage, customers should use the AP-A device sparingly to preserve battery life.

Expected Backup Power Duration

The internal backup battery will power the AP-A service for 24 hours on standby.

Proper Usage and Storage Conditions, Including the Impact on Duration of Failing to Adhere to Proper Usage and Storage

Since the backup battery is integrated into the AP-A device, it should be maintained under the same conditions as the device. The AP-A device should be used inside the home, keeping the internal temperature between 32 °F and 113 °F (0 °C and 45 °C). Storing the device at higher or lower temperatures could adversely impact the duration of backup power available from the battery.

Subscriber Backup Power Self-Testing and -Monitoring Instructions

The built-in backup battery is part of the AP-A device. No testing is necessary on the battery as long as the AP-A service is active.

Backup Power Warranty Details

The AP-A device carries a one-year warranty, which also covers the built-in backup battery.

Security Responsibilities and Other Steps You May Take to Ensure Safe Use of AP-A

As noted above, in the event of a power outage, AP-A has a built-in battery backup device that can provide power for up to 24 hours. However, if the device does not have electrical or battery power, then the AP-A service will not work, including emergency 911 service. The AP-A device should remain plugged in to an electrical power source for the service to continue working and to ensure that the battery remains fully charged.

Important Information Regarding AT&T Phone for Business – Advanced (APB-A)

Lack of Line Power

AT&T Phone for Business – Advanced (APB-A) does not provide line power. However, in the event of a power outage APB-A has a built-in, rechargeable battery backup that provides up to 24 hours of power on standby.

Backup Power

- Capability to Accept Backup Power. If there is an electrical power outage that affects the electricity to your business location, your APB-A device will continue to function by using its built-in backup battery.
- The APB-A device includes a 24-hour battery backup at no additional cost. APB-A is offered as a service (aaS) that features AT&T-owned and managed devices installed at the customer's premises. Should the APB-A device or battery become inoperable, AT&T will replace the APB-A device for as long as the customer retains APB-A as a service.
- Service Limitations with and without Backup Power. The backup battery will power the APB-A service, but it will not power other customer owned equipment like medical and security-monitoring systems. To maximize battery life during a power outage, customers should minimize usage of APB-A.

Expected Backup Power Duration

The internal backup battery will power the APB-A service for 24 hours on standby.

Proper Usage and Storage Conditions, Including the Impact on Duration of Failing to Adhere to Proper Usage and Storage

Since the backup battery is integrated into the APB-A device, it should be maintained under the same conditions as the device. The APB-A device should be used inside the business location, keeping the internal temperature between 32 °F and 113 °F (0 °C and 45 °C). Storing the device at higher or lower temperatures could adversely impact the duration of backup power available from the battery.

Subscriber Backup Power Self-Testing and -Monitoring Instructions

The built-in backup battery is part of the APB-A device. No testing is necessary on the battery as long as the APB-A service is active.

APB-A Device Service Assurance Details

The APB-A device includes a 24-hour battery backup at no additional cost. AT&T Phone for Business – Advanced is offered as a service (aaS) that features AT&T-owned and managed devices installed at the customer's premises. Should the APB-A device or battery become inoperable, AT&T will replace the APB-A device for as long as the customer retains APB-A as a service.

Security Responsibilities and Other Steps You May Take to Ensure Safe Use of APB-A

As noted above, in the event of a power outage, APB-A device has a built-in battery backup that can provide power for 24 hours. However, if the device does not have electrical or battery power, APB-A service will not work, including emergency 911 service. The APB-A device should remain plugged into an electrical power source for the service to continue working and to ensure that the battery remains fully charged.
