Oil prices should be going down natural gas prices should be going down. Why would they need an increase when you are expecting a decrease.

It is not our fault that Chesapeake utilities corporation spent too much money buying Florida city gas. Now they want to get reimbursed for their fiscal irresponsibility and defer the cost to us to consumer when we should be seeing a cost decrease across the board.

We have to live within our means and they should too. They should make wiser decisions not to defer cost to the public a 24% increase is ridiculous.
