1. Request is outrageous-----107% for interim increase      35% long term
Chesapeake obviously paid too much for FCG. The Roi deals with a return, for that overpayment for FCG.

As for the ROI , gas companies are utilities, to be run for the benefit of it's customers, not for "company raiders".

With a guaranteed income stream, it can certainly attract customers for ROI's less than requested.

For you regulators, protect citizens, they deserve it.
