I know that prices are going up for materials, fuel and food etc;. We, the customers are feeling the pinch also and a lot of us are struggling to exist week to week. I might not know a lot about how these sessions work with allowing these large companies to receive permission to increase the cost of services. But 24% added to our monthly bill is not just a drop in the bucket. It seems that the corporations are so use to getting what they ask for so why shouldn't they dig into the customers pockets. What happened to asking for 5% or 7%. I think that 24% is extremely high. Would the Commission or Corporate be ok if their cost increased materials or licenses increased by 24% and did not receive an increase or raise to help offset the increase In pricing??
