1   I.     Introduction

2   Q.     Please state your name, occupation and business address.

3   A.     My name is Jessica Husted. My business address is 1635 Meathe Drive, West Palm
4           Beach, FL 33411. I am employed by Chesapeake Utilities Corporation (“CUC” or 5           “Chesapeake”) as the Manager of Regulatory Affairs. Chesapeake is the parent
6           company of Florida City Gas (“FCG”).

7   Q.     Have you previously filed direct testimony in this docket?

8   A.     Yes, I filed direct testimony on behalf of Florida City Gas which I refer to herein as 9           either “the Company” or “FCG.”

10  Q.     Has your employment status and job responsibilities remained the same since 11          discussed in your previous testimony?

12  A.     Yes.

13  Q.     Are you providing any exhibits with your rebuttal testimony?

14  A.     No.

16  II.    Purpose and Summary of Testimony

17  Q.     What is the purpose of your rebuttal testimony?

18  A.     The purpose of my rebuttal testimony is to respond to certain recommendations and 19          adjustments proposed by the Office of Public Counsel (“OPC”) witness Helmuth W.
20          Schultz, III in his direct testimony filed July 20, 2026. Specifically, my rebuttal
21          testimony addresses the following issues:

22          1. Mr. Schultz’s rate case expense adjustment (Schultz Direct, Section VII.H); and

2. Mr. Schultz's Other Revenue adjustment, including the Account 495 and Account 488 components (Schultz Direct, Section VII.A).

III. Summary of Rebuttal Position

Q. Please summarize your rebuttal position.

A. Mr. Schultz's rate case expense adjustment should be rejected. The Company's $4,215,262 projected rate case expense amortized over five years at $843,052 per year is prudent and reasonable. The Company's miscellaneous service charges are supported by an operational cost analysis, and projected miscellaneous charge revenues were calculated by applying the proposed service charge amounts to a projected level of occurrences.

IV. Rate Case Expense

Q. Please describe the Company's projected rate case expense.

A. As I explained in my direct testimony at Section IV, the Company's projected rate case expense of $4,215,262 is proposed to be amortized over five years at $843,052 per year, as shown on MFR Schedule C-13 and Schedule G2-19h. The projected expense reflects actual and estimated labor costs, consulting costs, and attorney costs directly related to preparing and supporting the rate case filings, discovery, and the hearing process. The projection assumes this case will proceed to a fully litigated hearing.

Q. Please describe Mr. Schultz's rate case expense adjustment.

1 A. In Section VII.H of his direct testimony, Mr. Schultz proposes to remove
2 approximately $1,467,663 from the projected rate case expense as he believes the rate
3 case cost is excessive when compared to the escalated benchmark cost of the 2022 rate
4 case, which corresponds to an annual amortization impact of approximately $293,533.

5 Q. Do you agree with that adjustment?

6 A. No I do not. The following explains my reasons in more detail.

7 Temporary Staffing

8 As I explained in my direct testimony, the Company maintains a staffing level that 9 allows for efficient and safe delivery of service to customers. For a rate proceeding,
10 the extraordinary time and labor required exceeds the scope of normal operations.
11 Because a rate case filing is outside the norm and does not occur at regular intervals,
12 the estimated rate case expense is outside the scope of normal O&M and is unique to 13 this filing. If the Company were, instead, regularly staffed at the level necessary to 14 handle rate cases entirely in-house, staffing costs would be significantly higher on an 15 annual basis and would have a more significant impact on rates than the amortization
16 of rate case expense proposed in this proceeding.

17 Depreciation Study Costs

18 As discussed in Witness Everngam's testimony, the depreciation study was filed in 19 February of 2025 with the expectation that approval of the proposed study would 20 enable FCG to delay the rate case longer, but ultimately, the depreciation study
21 outcome was not sufficient to enable further delay. The results of the depreciation 22 study have since been utilized in this rate case proceeding, as if it were filed with the 23 rate case, including a reduction in revenue requirement of approximately $504K.

1 Therefore, the Company believes including depreciation study consultant costs are 2 prudent and reasonable to be included in rate case expense. As an alternative, if these 3 costs are not included in rate case expense, these expenses should be amortized over
4 five years in O&M expenses mirroring the period that the depreciation rates will be
5 effective, and for purposes of recovery in base rates.

6 Outside Consulting Costs

7 The projected rate case expense reflects actual and estimated labor, consulting, and 8 attorney costs for the engagements necessary to litigate this proceeding. As I described
9 in my direct testimony, FCG utilizes various external consultants to assist in the areas
10 of cost of capital, acquisition adjustment, cost of service study, weather-normalizing
11 billing determinants, rate design, and tariff modifications. The Company has 12 determined over time that it is more prudent to hire outside expertise and extra 13 assistance as needed than to maintain that expertise in-house on an ongoing basis. In 14 addition, internal staff could not interrupt their duties as frequently as would be 15 necessary to provide answers to the numerous discovery requests in this proceeding.
16 We hire additional assistance during a rate case to ensure that we are appropriately
17 responsive during the proceeding, and that we are also able to continue providing safe
18 and reliable service to our customers.

19 Amortization of Prior Rate Case Costs

20 The remaining balance represents prudently incurred costs that were previously
21 determined to be appropriate and authorized for recovery over a Commission-
22 approved amortization period but have not yet been fully recovered from customers.

23 The filing of a subsequent rate case does not change the nature of those costs or

1 eliminate the remaining unrecovered balance. Absent continued recovery, the 2 Company would be denied the opportunity to recover these costs that were previously
3 authorized for amortization. An unamortized prior rate case expense was also allowed
4 to be carried over by the Commission in People's Gas last rate case in Order No. PSC-
5 2025-0413-S-GU, Docket No. 20250029-GU.

6 Notices, Tariff, Travel, and Prior Owner Assistance Costs

7 The Company believes these costs are properly classified as incremental rate case
8 expenses directly attributable to the preparation, support, and litigation of this case.
9 The projected costs reflect management's best estimate of the incremental expenses
10 necessary to support these activities and are reasonable given the scope and complexity
11 of the filing. These costs are directly caused by the rate case and would not otherwise 12 be incurred in the ordinary course of business.

13
14 V. Miscellaneous Service and Other Revenue Adjustments (Accounts 488 and 495)

15 Q. Please describe Mr. Schultz's Miscellaneous Service and Other Revenue
16 adjustment.

17 A. In Section VII.A of his direct testimony and Exhibit HWS-2, Schedule C-1, Mr.
18 Schultz recommends increasing Other Revenue by approximately $1.8 million made
19 up of miscellaneous service revenues of $820,022 and other revenues of $1,004,899.

20 Q. Do you agree with Mr. Schultz's adjustments?

21 A. No, I do not.

22 Mr. Schultz's observations regarding the revenue items included in Accounts 488 and 23 495 of the 2025 annual report are incorrect.

1        Account 488 – Miscellaneous Service Revenues

2        Mr. Schultz assumes the Company failed to reflect revenues related to Initial 3        Connections, Reconnects for Cause, Collection in Lieu and Returned Check in the 4        forecast, stating that these revenues disappeared from the Company's annual report in 5        2024 and 2025. This is not accurate, the revenues were included in the annual reports
6        for both of these years. In the 2025 annual report, these revenue items are included in 7        the $2,964,749 in Account 488. The Company also included connections,
8        reconnections and returned check fees among the $2,287,122 of 2027 projected Other
9        Miscellaneous Revenues in MFR Schedule G-2 page 11c of 31. Specifically,
10       connections and reconnections are included in Miscellaneous Service Revenues (Line
11       241) and NSF Charges (Line 246). As I noted in my direct testimony, the Company
12       no longer performs collection activities in the field due to safety concerns for FCG's
13       employees. Therefore, FCG proposed removing the service charge and did not include 14       revenues related to field collection activities in the 2027 projection. Also, as noted in 15       my direct testimony, the Company's proposed miscellaneous service charges were 16       independently evaluated based on operational cost, and projected miscellaneous 17       charge revenues were calculated by applying the proposed service charge amounts to 18       a projected level of occurrences. In addition, these proposed types of service charges
19       align with FPUC's service charges in preparation for any future consolidation of the 20       entities.

21       Account 495 – Other Revenues

22       For Account 495, Mr. Schultz assumed that Conservation Revenues are included in 23       the $6,473,837 reported in 2025. This is not accurate. Conservation Revenues are included amongst the 480, 481 and 489 accounts on the referenced annual report schedule. Below is a table breaking out the revenue items included in Account 495 of the 2025 annual report.

| Account 495 Revenue Items | 2025 Annual Report |
|----------------------------------|---------------------------|
| SAFE Revenues                    | 8,449,987                 |
| PGA Over/Under Recoveries        | (4,381,853)               |
| Off System Sales                 | 2,047,508                 |
| AEP Revenues                     | 356,284                   |
| Other Misc Revenues              | 1,911                     |
| Total                            | 6,473,837          |

All SAFE and PGA related revenues were forecasted per rate class in MFR Schedule G-2 (1-5 of 6) for 2027 and were subsequently removed in MFR Schedule G-2 page 2 of 31 as these are recovered through separate clauses and not base rates. The Off System Sales revenue projections are further discussed in the rebuttal testimonies of Witnesses Dan Noia and Matthew Everngam.

As I noted in my direct testimony, the Company is proposing to discontinue the current AEP surcharges when new rates go into effect for existing projects and to transfer all un-recovered excess construction costs from the current AEP program as of December 31, 2026, to the applicable capital plant construction account. If approved, any customers currently being billed AEP surcharges would no longer be billed an AEP surcharge in 2027 and the requested program changes would be applicable to future AEP projects. Therefore, the Company projected AEP revenue of $0 for 2027.

Q. Does this conclude your rebuttal testimony?

A. Yes.
